REV. MR. CLAPP'S AUTO STRUCK ICE WAGON

Car Skidded on Wet Street and Occupants Fortunately Escaped Serious Injury—Mr. Clapp's Son Thrown Over the Horses

Rev. Raymond G. Clapp, pastor of the First Trinitarian Congregational church and his son, Allen, aged 4 years, both residing at 64 Porter street, had a very narrow escape from serious injury at 3 o'clock this morning when the automobile in which they were riding crashed into an ice wagon of the Daniel Gage Co. in Broadway near the corner of Claire street. Witnesses of the accident say it was a miracle that the boy was not killed or he was thrown from the automobile over the horses hitched to the wagon and then fell between their feet. Fortunately the little fellow received but a few contusions about the head while the father escaped with a bad shaking up. The automobile was badly damaged, but the ice wagon did not suffer any damage, while one of the horses was slightly bruised.

The accident happened at a very dangerous spot in Broadway, where the street pavement is covered with mud and ice. The watering car had just riddled the street and the road was very slippery. Rev. Mr. Clapp with a son, were riding in the former's Ford touring car, headed for St. Geo. Lockhart's home at 21 Schafer street, hence they were going to ride to Gums pond, where the boys' brigade of the church of which Rev. Mr. Clapp is pastor, will spend all next week morning. The machine was being driven at a moderate rate of speed according to witnesses, and was proceeding along on the right side of the road.

On the opposite side of the street an ice wagon of the Daniel Gage Co., number 6, was being driven en route for the Boulevard district. When the corner of Claire street was reached the automobile skidded and despite the efforts of the man at the wheel, the car leaped across the electric car tracks and crashed into the side of the ice wagon. Little Allen was forcibly thrown over the wind shield and over the horses' backs, falling between the feet of the animals. Fortunately he managed to get away before he was trampled upon. One of the horses was thrown to the ground, while the other trampled the front of the automobile, breaking the wind shield in pieces and smashing the lights. The hood of the car was also badly damaged.

The horses were soon unhitched and led away from the debris of the automobile, while Rev. Mr. Clapp and his son boarded an oncoming automobile and were removed in haste to St.

John's hospital, where a thorough examination of the little fellow was made by the attending physician. It was found that he was suffering from a few contusions about the head, while the father fortunately was not injured. The damaged automobile was allowed to remain on the car tracks for some time and accordingly the car traffic on Broadway was delayed for a short time. The machine was later towed to a garage. Mr. Lockhart, who has soon on the scene of the accident, informed the writer that the trip to Gums pond would be held just the same and that all preparations for the week's encampment of the Boys' brigade will be carried along. The boys will journey to the Pelham resort Monday morning.

The Daily Citizen's Paris correspondent reports that a general mobilization has been ordered.

SIMULTANEOUS ULTIMATUMS TO RUSSIA AND FRANCE BY GERMANY

ROME, Aug. 1.—The Messagero today says that the German ambassador has informed the Italian government that Germany has sent simultaneous ultimatums to Russia and France.

The German government, in its ultimatum to Russia asked her to suspend her mobilization within 12 hours.

In the demand sent by Germany to France the government at Berlin requires France to inform it within 18 hours whether in case of war between Germany and Russia, France would remain neutral.

The German ambassador to Italy today also asked to be informed of Italy's attitude in the event of war between Germany and Austria-Hungary on the one side and Russia and France on the other.

The Marquis Di San Giuliano, the Italian foreign minister, said he would reserve his reply until he had consulted Premier Salandra.

According to the Messagero, during the interview which followed between the Marquis Di San Giuliano and Premier Salandra the two Italian statesmen were in complete agreement as to the line of conduct to be pursued by Italy in the present crisis.

The Messagero declares that as it is not a question of a defensive war on the part of Germany and Austria-Hungary, the other two members of the Triple Alliance, Italy has decided to confine herself to pointing out to her allies that her treaty obligations with them do not oblige her to take up arms in the present crisis and that

First Edition MILITANTS ATTEMPTED TO BLOW UP CATHEDRAL

Women Disobeyed Order of Union and Placed a Quantity of Dynamite Beneath the Window of Ancient Cathedral at Lisbon

BELFAST, Ireland, Aug. 1.—Militant suffragettes today disobeyed the order issued by the Women's Social and Political union requesting members to refrain from militant acts during the international crisis and made an attempt to destroy the ancient cathedral at Lisbon which contains a monument of Lieut. Dobbs who was killed during an engagement against Admiral John Paul Jones' ship. The wild women placed a quantity of dynamite beneath a window of the cathedral. The thick wall resisted the explosion but a rare stained glass window was shattered and a large quantity of masonry damaged.

GEERS WON AT DETROIT

Conner Handicap Feature of Get-away Card at Grand Circuit Meeting Yesterday

DETROIT, Aug. 1.—The Conner handicap was the feature of the get-away card at the Grand Circuit meeting here yesterday. There were little paths for the starters, the handicapping being by distance. The paths were marked around the first turn, each horse having to keep in his own runway.

Robert Milroy, savior by record, had the pole, with Ben Zolock second, Anvil third, and Duke Archdale fourth. Engineers had started out that the difference in the distance for about three-eighths of a mile would equalize the speed of the horses.

In the first heat, Robert Milroy had a big lead when they reached the backstretch, with Ben Zolock second and Anvil coming fast. Ben Zolock broke in the last turn and Anvil had it on Robert Milroy and in the stretch caught and beat the gelding easily in 2:05 1/2.

In the second heat Ben Zolock broke and Anvil shifted to a pace. Geers pulled him off his feet. Robert Milroy had it all to himself, winning in a jag in 2:11.

Ben Zolock took the lead on the back stretch when Robert Milroy made a break in the third heat. Geers rated Anvil well and when inside of the distance he caught Ben Zolock and beat him half a length in 2:09 1/2. Robert Milroy beat him right there at the end.

Pay Richmond favorite

The 267 pace proved the best race of the card. Pay Richmond was favorite at $50, Alcy E and Baron Alcyone $25 each, Marietta $20 and the field $25.

Little Benzie made the pace to the half, where she broke and John D. took the lead. Next time John D. had to pace in 2:41 1/4 to beat Pay Richmond by a neck. Pay beat John D. in the last part of the mile and the latter was distanced in the fourth, Marietta having led to the last eighth, where Pay Richmond went for her.

The fifth heat was a battle between the pair. Murphy hustling Marietta along in the last part and carrying the gray to a break.

With only two lengths in the sixth heat, Pay Richmond made the pace, opening up his gap on the last turn. Marietta came to him on the stretch, but Murphy had to go to the whip to win by inches.

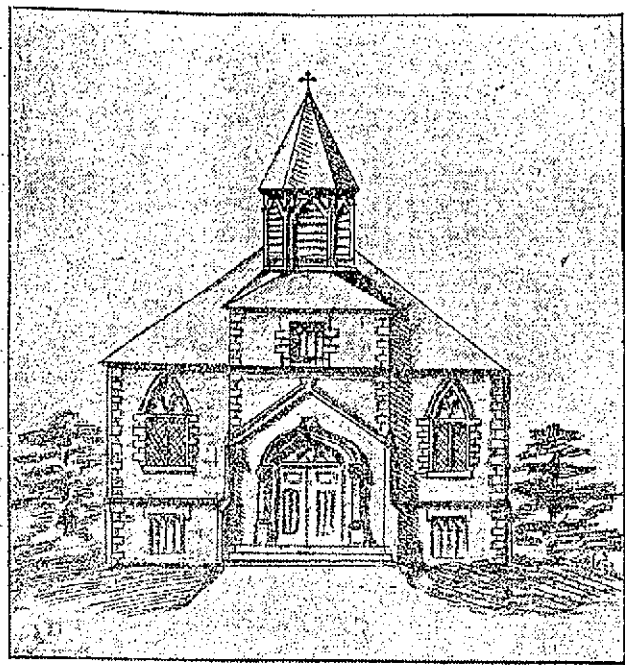

Marietta made the pace in the seventh heat, breaking at the distance

BUILDINGS AND REALTY

FRONT VIEW OF PROPOSED ARMENIAN ORTHODOX CHURCH

New Church Soon to be Erected on Lawrence Street—Considerable Building Activity

Lowell is soon to count another church as the members of the local Armenian colony have started work on the foundation of their new temple which will be erected on the Westworth estate in Lawrence st., which was purchased by the community. The proposed building will cost between $7000 and $8000, and it is believed it will be ready for service before the snow flies.

The building is being erected with public subscriptions, the members of the colony alone donating the sum of $3000. A committee known as the building committee and composed of seven members has been appointed with Marcus D. Manoukian as secretary, and it is believed within a few months the necessary amount will have been raised.

The work of digging for the foundation is being done by volunteers who work during the evening and the job is being rushed along, there being at times over 20 men at work. The new building will be of brick and the dimensions will be 34 by 78 feet. It will be one story in height with basement to be used as a vestry and the interior of the temple will be handsomely decorated. The new parish will be known as St. Gregory's and as soon as the church is completed a resident clergyman will come to Lowell. It is believed that there are about 50 Armenians in Lowell. Bids for the new structure will be asked for as soon as the plans are accepted by the superior of the Armenian church.

Dr. Omer G. Lavalley has had his stable in the rear of his house in Merrimack street torn down and in its stead he will have a three-story dwelling house erected. The building will contain three tenements of six rooms each with pantry and bath and will be of the latest style.

James W. Johnson has a number of men at work on repairing the fire damage at his property, 125 Jovett street, the work to consist of patching the roof, new window frames and interior alterations.

The property of Isaac Bernstein, numbered 605-69 Market street, is undergoing considerable changes. The store front is being changed and an addition of one room is being constructed on the fourth story. General repairs will also be made in the interior of the building.

The house of Mr. Butterfield, formerly located in Totman street, and which has been moved into Johnson street, is now the property of William A. Miller, who is raising the roof about seven feet to give square rooms on the second floor. An addition will be constructed and interior alterations made.

Annie Kells has made plans for considerable changes to her property at 178-176 East Merrimack street. The roof of the building will be squared and the structure will be three stories instead of two and one-half. A large piazza will be constructed in the rear and two bay windows on the front of the building will be built. The cornice will be of galvanized iron and the same material will be used on the eaves of the bay windows. Two bath rooms will be fitted up and the approximate cost of the work will be $1000.

Israel Maunin has started work on the erection of a stable and carriage shed in the rear of his home, 123 Railroad street. The stable will be 11 by 21 feet, while the shed will be 13 by 21 feet. The cost of both structures will be $800.

Ezra A. Jones has a gang of men at work on the erection of a dwelling house at 22 Rose avenue. The building will be two stories in height and contain seven rooms with pantry and bath. The dimensions will be 28 by 28 feet and a steam heating system will be installed. The cost of the building will be about $1300.

A lot of work is being done on the building of Warren, H. Bladell, 19 Lamb street. The building is being erected up with a steam heating system and a new bay window is being put in. The window in the bath room will be changed and general repairs will be made throughout the house.

A seven-room house with pantry and bath is being erected for Ida E. Farrington at 121 Warwick street. A steam heating system will be installed and the cost of the building will be about $2000.

The two and a half story building of H. Duarte at 182 Charles street will soon become a three-story affair for more space now at work on squaring the pitched roof, and when the work is completed the building will contain three five-room tenements. A large piazza will be built in the rear with open stairway.

Joseph Butler is repairing the fire damage at his property numbered 133 Stevens street, this consisting of rebuilding the roof and interior alterations.

she will remain neutral. The newspaper adds that it is not certain this neutrality will last until the end of the war. It will stand aloof from hostilities as long as she is convinced that her interests are not being infringed.

INDICATIONS THAT NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE WILL BE CLOSED INDEFINITELY

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The New York stock exchange, closed yesterday for an indefinite period, remained closed today with indications that its doors would not open until such time as the European situation would show marked improvement.

There will be no unheralded opening of the exchange, according to one of its officials, as every member will be given at least 12 hours notice in advance of the opening. This official added that it was his opinion that the exchange would remain closed for some little time.

KAISER SAYS PEACE COULD BE MAINTAINED IF RUSSIA WOULD CEASE ACTIVITIES

BERLIN, Aug. 1.—The North German Gazette, the official organ of the government, says that after the Russian emperor had given the order for the mobilization of the entire Russian army and fleet Emperor William sent a final telegram to Emperor Nicholas in which he made it clear that his responsibility for the security of the German empire compelled him to adopt defensive measures.

NATIONAL PENNY BANK IN LONDON WAS ORDERED CLOSED TODAY

LONDON, Aug. 1.—The National Penny bank, an institution with many

to the bank at the customary opening hour.

The crowd increased as the morning passed and an hour after the opening some 500 persons were lined up while the streets nearby were filled with curious onlookers.

Strong Force of Police on Duty

The bank porters had been sworn in as special policemen so that they could more easily handle the crowds and in case of necessity arrest disturbers. A strong force of the city police was on duty to deal with the crowd outside the bank premises.

At holiday resorts, notes are usually refused and in fact in London restaurants and theatres, notes are changed at the best of times only for customers and others who are known personally, so that persons with pockets full of paper money often find themselves unable to buy anything.

The closing of the National Penny bank, whose customers are mostly working people, caused no excitement whatever. Not a person appeared in front of the head office. A similar quiet prevailed at other banks and there was no sign of a run. Throgmorton street, where stockbrokers usually assemble, was deserted today, the brokers having gone away for the holiday. In fact the traffic to the holiday resorts was heavier today than it had ever been, many who had intended to take short trips to the continent having decided to remain in the British Isles.

The Baltic Mercantile &amp; Shipping Exchange is to be opened on Monday, an unprecedented occurrence on a bank holiday.

DECISION IN MEDIATION PROPOSALS WAS TO HAVE BEEN TAKEN TODAY

BERLIN, Aug. 1.—An official communication published today in the North German Gazette says the Russian emperor on July 26 telegraphed to Emperor William, urgently requesting him to help in averting the misfortune of a European war and to try to restrain his ally, Austria-Hungary from going too far.

Emperor William replied that he would willingly take up the task of mediator and accordingly diplomatic action was initiated in Vienna.

While this was in progress the news that Russia was mobilizing arrived in Berlin and Emperor William telegraphed to the emperor of Russia that

1-TYPE OF RUSSIAN INFANTRY
2-CZAR OF RUSSIA

At the age of forty-six Czar Nicholas II. of Russia finds himself plunged into the gravest international difficulty of recent years. Upon his orders the great Russian army—it is estimated that it numbers 5,500,000 on a war basis—started to mobilize. Troops marched through the capital amid great enthusiasm of the people, as illustrated in the accompanying picture, taken on an occasion of peace.

AMBASSADORS AT POSTS

SEC. BRYAN ORDERS PROMPT REPORTS IF AMERICANS ARE KILLED OR INJURED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—In order to keep in close touch with the war developments in Europe and to have prompt information about Americans living or traveling in the affected countries, all American ambassadors and ministers abroad are to be kept closely at their posts.

Secretary Bryan yesterday cabled the American diplomats in the countries which may be involved, instructing them to report promptly by cable the cases of all Americans killed, injured or distressed.

Ambassador Page is now in England and Ambassador Gerard is in Germany. The retiring ambassador to France, Myron T. Herrick, is to be asked to remain in Paris until his successor, ex-Representative Sharpe, arrives.

Ambassador Page, at Rome, who had planned to leave for the United States shortly, is to be asked to stay at his post. The ambassador to Spain, Jos-

Willard, who plans to leave for Madrid next Tuesday, was at the White House yesterday inquiring about the situation.

The new ambassador to Russia, Mr. Marye, plans to leave for St. Petersburg as soon as he can obtain passage.

The war department has concluded to rely upon its existing force of military attaches in the European embassies and legations for the present, at least, to gather information of military value during the war. These officers are already on the ground, speak the language of the country to which they are accredited and are well acquainted with the officials to whom they must look for information.

Therefore, it is the intention of the department to refrain for the present from despatching special observers, although about half of the officers of the army have applied for such duty.

COLLEGE ALUMNI

Arranged for Annual Reunion on Aug. 15.—Important Meeting Held Last Night

An important meeting of the members of St. Joseph's college alumni was held last night at the college hall in Merrimack street for the purpose of completing arrangements for the annual reunion, which will be held on Thursday, Aug. 13. The meeting was largely attended and President Wilford P. Caine, Jr., occupied the chair. Considerable business was transacted and a feature of the evening was the nomination of officers, the election to be held on the night of the banquet.

As usual the nomination brought forth a lively contest with the exception of the positions of president, treasurer, secretary and assistant secretary. Those nominated were as follows: John B. Richard, president; Arthur Simard and Lucien F. L. Turcotte, vice president; Edmund M. Foley, treasurer; Arthur Giroux, secretary; George E. Cossette, assistant secretary; Ulric Duhaime, Arthur L. Lamoureux, Leonard Gionet, Roderick E. Jodoin, J. A. Chretien, Eugene Ricard, Isidore Trudel and Armand Marchand, directors. Out of ten candidates for directors five will be chosen.

At the close of the nomination it was unanimously voted to elect President Caine honorary president of the organization as a token of appreciation for services rendered the alumni during his two terms as president. Several members of the alumni addressed the gathering and all indications point to a very successful outing this year.

FRIENDS THEN, ENEMIES NOW—KAISER AND KING OF ENGLAND RIDING TOGETHER IN GERMANY'S CAPITAL

KAISER WILHELM AND KING GEORGE SNAPPED IN BERLIN

This picture possesses unusual interest at this time because it shows the kaiser and the king of England as they appeared riding together in Berlin last year. Now the European war situation places them as enemies of one another.

GENERAL STRIKE THREAT

INTERNATIONAL SOCIALIST CONGRESS WILL MEET IN PARIS AUG. 2TH

PARIS, Aug. 1.—An international general strike of the mining and transportation industries all over Europe may be ordered by the international socialist congress in case of an all-European war.

The congress, which was originally planned for Aug. 25 in Vienna, has been changed to this city, on Aug. 2. The change is due to the determination of the international socialist organization, which numbers 12,500,000 members, to avert the impending conflagration of all Europe over the Austria-Serbia war.

Two years ago, when France and Germany were on the brink of war over Morocco, it was the socialists of Germany who frightened the two governments into a peace agreement by their huge anti-war demonstrations all over Germany and France. At one demonstration alone in Berlin 100,000 pledged themselves against war.

It is the general conviction among the socialists gathering here that the present international conflict, brought on by the monopolists' hands of Europe, will be averted by the masses if they refuse to mine coal or transport arms, ammunition, troops or food for the armies engaged.

The calling of this vast international strike will probably be the first and most important resolution to be acted on by the congress. The sentiment among the delegates is overwhelming for a general strike. The strike question was discussed at the last international socialist congress four years ago, and a committee was appointed to draw up resolutions for the present congress to act upon.

It is the report and the resolutions of this committee which will embody the motion for an international general strike. If the resolution is passed, miners in every nation will throw down their picks and transport workers will refuse to move any of the machinery of war.

Morris Hillquit, lawyer of New York, one of the leading socialists in this country and secretary to the international socialist bureau, said yesterday:

"The congress would undoubtedly take a strong stand on the embroiling of all Europe in war. It is probable that the action will take the form of a general strike of the industries connected with the conduct of war—mining, manufacture of arms and ammunition and their transportation.

"There is a strong sentiment on the part of the powerfully organized socialists and trade unionists all over Europe against war. In the present imagination there is nothing to drive the socialists, and a campaign such as the socialists have launched will undoubtedly have its effect."

FISHERMEN BLOCKADED

ICEBERGS TIE UP TRAFFIC IN LABRADOR HARBOR

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 1.—The harbors along the Labrador coast are blockaded by ice and the condition of the fishermen is most serious, according to Captain Johnstone of the United States revenue cutter Seneca which arrived here yesterday.

When several miles southeast of Indian harbor, Labrador, July 13, the Seneca was surrounded by a heavy field of ice and 18 bergs were sighted. Captain Johnstone reported. He also declared that there were 3000 icebergs between Indian harbor and Flenish.

The Seneca, owing to the presence of so many bergs and to the conditions along the coast, which were said to be the worst for years, was compelled to abandon an observation cruise toward Greenland.

The directors said that owing to the serious financial situation at home and abroad, which has caused all stock exchange securities to suffer enormous depreciations so that they cannot be easily realized upon and because of the further difficulty in obtaining gold coins, the directors feel compelled in the interest of depositors to suspend business for a time.

BIG LINERS RECALLED BY WIRELESS AS RESULT OF EUROPEAN SITUATION

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The North German line steamers Frederick Der Grosse which sailed from Baltimore on July 23 and Neckar, which sailed from Galveston the same day, were recalled today by wireless. ## BANK OF ENGLAND TODAY RAISED ITS DISCOUNT RATE TO 10 PER CENT.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—The Bank of England today raised its discount rate to 10 per cent.

The scenes witnessed at the Bank of England yesterday during the rush to obtain gold in exchange for bank notes were repeated this morning, but on a still larger scale. A few people who had been too late to get currency yesterday afternoon spent the night in the vicinity of the bank and reached the quadrangle at daybreak so as to be first in line today. The majority of people, however, came to the city in their usual leisurely manner and went his role as mediator was by this endangered if not made impossible.

The communication adds that a decision was to have been taken in Vienna in regard to the mediation proposals, in which Great Britain had joined Germany but that meanwhile Russia had ordered the full mobilization of her forces. Upon this Emperor William addressed a last telegram to Emperor Nicholas emphatically declaring that his own responsibility for the safety of the German empire had forced him to take defensive measures.

According to this bulletin, the total debt of the 48 state governments on June 30, 1913, amounted to $422,796,525. Of this total, $402,366,569 represented funded debt, and $19,429,956 represented floating debt. Of the funded debt, $364,836,427 are represented in bonds and $37,530,142 are special debt obligations to public trust funds.

As an offsetting item against this total, the 48 states reported $78,980,572 in sinking fund assets, leaving their debt (less sinking fund assets), $343,815,953. The per capita debt for the 48 states amounted to $3.57 on June 30, 1913.

In contrast with the debt of the 48 state governments, the national government had a total debt on June 30, 1913, of $2,016,204,914. Of this total, the funded debt amounted to $2,540,523,323, while the floating debt amounted to $376,681,591. Of the funded debt, the bonded indebtedness amounted to $967,386,160, while the special debt obligations amounted to $1,573,137,169. The sinking fund assets, or cash in the United States treasury available for the payment of debt, consisting of accumulated trust funds, gold and silver and general treasury cash, not only were sufficient to eliminate entirely the bonded debt obligations but also to reduce the funded debt. The national debt, less cash in the treasury available for the payment of debt, amounted to only $1,028,547,056, or a per capita debt of $10.58.

The debt of the national government was higher in 1870 than at any time since that date; the per capita debt that year being $56.46. This amount, though large, was a material decrease over the debt as it stood August 31, 1865. On that date the indebtedness of the national government (less funds available for the payment of debt) amounted to $2,764,412,571, an average of $73.41 for every inhabitant of the country. The rate of decrease between 1865 and 1870 was continued until in 1880 the indebtedness of the national government had decreased so that the population, the per capita debt had been reduced to only $35.27. Ten years later (1890) it had been reduced to $13.60, at which point it remained with only comparatively slight fluctuations. Increasing somewhat during the Spanish-American war and decreasing somewhat since that date, until at the latest date reported (1913), the indebtedness of the national government amounts to only $10.58 per capita, an amount slightly higher than in 1907, the lowest recorded. The sinking fund assets, was $352,866,988, or $9.15 per capita. The indebtedness of the state governments decreased in somewhat the same proportion as the indebtedness of the national government, and in 1880 the per capita debt of the 48 state governments was $5.48. Ten years later (1890) this had been reduced to $3.32. Further fluctuations during the last 20 years brought the per capita down to $2.57 in 1909, the lowest amount shown in the period covered. Since 1909 there has been some increase, the per capita debt for the 48 state governments being $3.57 on June 30, 1913.

Although there is a net decrease during the period covered in the actual outstanding indebtedness, the material part of the decrease in per capita debt for the national government, and the 48 state governments, is due to the very material increase in population, amounting to 33.5 per cent. in the period named. Considering the total debt for the national government and the 48 state governments, the total amount outstanding decreased from $2,844,036,564 in 1870 to $1,274,306,550 in 1913, a decrease of almost 50 per cent. In contrast, the per capita debt decreased from $59.01 in 1870 to $14.15 in 1913 (almost 50 per cent.), the lowest point reached being in 1907, when it amounted to $12.74.

The figures in the report show that Arizona and Massachusetts are the only states where the state debt, less sinking fund assets, amounts to more per capita than $10.58, the per capita debt for the United States. The debt of the national government, therefore, in a greater financial weight upon the people of every state in the Union (excepting these two) than is the debt of the state in which they live. In only a very small number of states does the per capita state debt amount to one-half the per capita debt of the national government. New York, for example, has a per capita state debt of $5.06, due largely to the cost of the Erie canal; while other states show a very low per capita debt, for Oregon it being only $0.54; for Kansas, $0.14; for Iowa, $0.16; for New Jersey, $0.21; while for Pennsylvania it is nothing, since in that state the sinking fund assets exceed the total debt.

APPEAL FOR MAINE FUSION

H. P. GARDNER, CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR, CALLS ON COLONEL ROOSEVELT AT OYSTER BAY

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Aug. 1.—H. P. Gardner, progressive candidate for governor of Maine, called on Theodore Roosevelt yesterday and to him the former president gave a typewritten statement and a letter to be read by Mr. Gardner when he opens his gubernatorial campaign.

In the two communications Colonel Roosevelt defined his attention on the question of fusion between progressives and republicans. The progressives, said the colonel, would be delighted to work with republicans endeavoring to overthrow republican political bosses, but would not ally themselves with "the old-time type" of republicans.

Mr. Roosevelt's pronouncement was called forth by Mr. Gardner's statement to him that the progressives of Maine were alarmed by published reports of a contemplated general fusion with republicans.

In his letter, Colonel Roosevelt said he hoped to visit them on Aug. 18, to speak to and for them. He would voice his appeal, he said, not only to progressives, but also to republicans and democrats.

It was not decided last night in which Maine city Colonel Roosevelt would speak on Aug. 18. Mr. Gardner was inclined toward Lewiston.

THE SPELLBINDER

While looking through Cowley's history of Lowell recently, I came across the following:

"The democratization of our local politics began some time prior to 1850 and was much accelerated by the coalition of that time. And politics, or the representation of politics, must be in a pretty much democratic condition today when one of the members of the municipal council sends out police inspectors to watch another member of the municipal council during the progress of a hearing on charges against a head of a department. Mayor Murphy and Commissioner Brown and the commissioner and Supt. Welch had verbal sessions a few days ago. It is said, over the telephone, that the part of the commissioner that the mayor and superintendent had placed police inspectors on his trail during the Putnam hearing. Fine business!"

De Profundis
Out of the depths came a faint voice from the past, a few evenings ago, when it was announced that the republican city committee was to hold a meeting. Outside of making a number of creditors sit up and take notice the announcement didn't cause much of a stir in the community. The remnants of the local G. O. P. drafted ex-Senator Horrie. Horrie presided and Horrie, who was every ready to help out the party, responded gracefully and did a good job as presiding officer. The new charter, however, long since sent the local party machine to the tomb while a couple of hands that had never been raised for the party at party pow-wows, would gladly have played a dirge over the remains of the machine without expense to the surviving relatives. And speaking of hands that play "for their health," the members of the Lowell Cadet band are beginning to wonder if the "cadets" "clarity" job they did last election night when they were routed out after the returns came in to furnish music for the victorious host. They paraded the streets minding the strains of their latest composition, with the rousing cheers for Mayor Murphy, but as yet there has been no "come back" in the shape of money and it is believed that henceforth, with the Cadets, all political jobs will be "C. O. D."

A Daniel Come to Judgment
The "Complacent Citizen" of the Courier-Citizen, offers a thoroughly original scheme to bring the eighth senatorial district back into the republican fold. Discussing the affairs of the eighth district the C. C. of the 14th says:

"Suppose, for example, that Dr. Livingston, with an eye to strategy, should go into the republican primaries as an independent candidate against George Marchand and Amos West, two candidates already in the field, and should capture the nomination. He would draw enough votes to give him the balance of power, provided by Senator Thayer."

Some scheme, though the way might be that strategic eye in mourning. Evidently, Mr. Luce of Somerville and his 20th century election laws have slipped the memory of the Complacent Citizen. It is likewise evident that the Complacent Citizen hasn't had time to vote in any of the recent primaries, otherwise he would know that the day of the separate primaries is long since passed away and now the voters of all parties assemble at their polling places for the primary election at the same time and each designates his party as he calls for his ballot. It would be very strange for Dr. Livingston, as progressive to ask for a republican or even a republican-independent ballot, if the primary officials were disposed to enforce the law, and furthermore as the time for changing party enrollment expired in June and Dr. Livingston did not return to the republican fold in legal time, he is not a member of the republican party, which is a recognized political party, and hence neither democratic, republican nor independent. However, the writer meant well.

The Eighth District
A well known republican told me a few days ago that the republican eighth senatorial district haven't much hope of electing a republican in that district with a progressive in the field and that some popular democrat could get the republican support. I mentioned the four gentlemen already in the contest he passed them all up as undesirable.

The Putnam Case
It is taking the commissioners much longer to decide the Putnam case than it has taken the public, for with the latter it is the general belief that Supt. Putnam will be exonerated. Already two of the commissioners, Messrs. Brown and Donnelly have voted to exonerate him and the third man is on the way. But it would appear that the third man doesn't want to flap over too suddenly particularly if earlier in the year he expressed himself as willing to vote to remove Mr. Putnam when Commissioner Morse was ready to start the removal proceedings.

A Sensitive Politician
The Old Timer hands me the following editorial from The Sun of 25 years ago:

"It has come to us that the Hon. Francis Jewett of this city, candidate for the republican nomination for lieutenant-governor, objects to being called 'Pa.' We cannot see why he should object. President Harrison is called 'Grandpa' and Mr. Jewett hopes to be president. It is one of the penalties of greatness to be called disagreeable names. While the late Mr. Jewett might have been sensitive, the same cannot be said of his grandson, Rep. Victor Jewett, for call the latter what you will, he'll come back smiling and his favorite ditty is as follows:

"Be good, be good," my grandpa said,
Though the roads be rough and
kitty;
Some day you may be senator
Or the mayor of the city."

THE CHARM OF MOTHERHOOD

Enhanced By Perfect Physical Health.

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

For over thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacement, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

O'Connor seeks the democratic nomination for congress in the fifth district and thus far no other democratic candidate has been mentioned, as Humphrey O'Connor has decided not to be a candidate so long as Mr. O'Connor is in the field. He does not believe in a local contest within the democratic party for the nomination. Mr. O'Connor has had much political and parliamentary experience in the past and there is nothing in his political record that would operate against him as a candidate. He was a delegate to the last democratic national convention at Baltimore where he made a most favorable impression among his fellow delegates from this state. At the convention Mr. O'Connor like practically all of the Massachusetts delegates, with the notable exception of Hon. William S. McNary and Charles B. Strecker, was a supporter of Champ Clark, but Messrs. McNary and Strecker had the right dose on the outcome for they were Wilson men throughout.

Are You Suffering From Auto-Intoxication?

The dictionary says that Auto-Intoxication is "poisoning, or the state of being poisoned, from toxic substances produced within the body." This is a condition due to the stomach, bowels, kidneys, liver, or pores of the body failing to throw off the poisons. More than 50% of adults are suffering from this trouble. This is probably why you are suffering from nervousness, headaches, loss of appetite, lack of ambition, and many other symptoms produced by Auto-Intoxication. Your whole system needs stirring up.

ular impression that the contest for the republican nomination in the 17th district would be between Representatives Jewett and Achin, the former and a day candidates, and John C. Leggett and Adalard Bernard, it would now appear that there are other ambitious contenders in the field, including Lorenzo B. Kew, son of the late Capt. William B. Kew; Fred G. Humphries of Bunting club fame; and ex-Alderman Smith J. Adams. Undoubtedly with Messrs. Jewett and Achin it's a case of the more the merrier, for the greater the number of candidates the better their chances. All of the republican candidates mentioned look like vote-getters, and hence the vote in the primaries will be widely split. The democratic candidates are ex-Aldermen Joseph Jodoin, Jr. and Herclie A. Tomlin and John P. Leavitt, a well known popular voting democrat, who has never held office.

Payng Water Bills
The time for paying water bills so as to receive the benefit of the discount expired this week and those who paid their bills were painfully aware of two facts. One was that it cost them considerably more for water this year than last, and the other was that while the water cost more this year than last its quality was no better.

Police Were Filled
Despite the efforts of the police to keep down the number of arrests, they were told this week and told by a woman who threw a brick through the police station window and insisted upon being arrested. A joker has suggested that Police Messenger Finner's recent increase in pay was a reward for his supposed efforts in keeping down the number of arrests on the police records of which he is the custodian.

Twenty-six Drunks No Arrests
If I am correctly informed, there have been 26 burglaries in Lowell that the public knows about, without an arrest; not to speak of those of which the public knows nothing. Evidently the burglars operated with gloves on so that Mr. Finner could not get their fingerprints. The superintendent should offer a premium of still another day off without pay, to any officer who arrests and convicts a burglar.

Back to the Horse
With $300 safely stowed away in the treasury, perhaps, since the beginning of the year, for the purchase of a new auto for the chief of the fire department, Chief Saunders has been forced to fall back on the horse and wagon of late as the auto now in his possession is in danger of falling apart. It seems strange that some heads of departments can get an auto for the asking, even with the emergency cash tucked on to expedite the purchase, while the chief who needs a new machine more than any other head of department cannot seem to get one. Supt. Alders made good his determination not to use the city automobile except on city business, last week, by riding

ARMOUR AVERTS PANIC

Chicago Man Rescued Wheat Market by Taking Over 8,000-000 Bushels From Traders

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—Armour's mill yesterday rescued the wheat trade from panic.

Instead of chaos resulting from a settlement day in the midst of a war market, with possibly scores of firms embarrassed and a virtual certainty that bankruptcies would ensue, the Chicago board of trade was enabled to maintain its record of never having closed.

Last night not a single failure had taken place. The chief reason was that 75 entangled firms and individuals on 'change were freely given by Armour & Co. whatever aid the necessities of the situation required.

President George E. Marcy of the Armour Grain company was the man who rose to the occasion. He quietly circulated word on the floor of the board, partly in person and partly through his lieutenants, that any member in trouble need only come to him.

Before nightfall Armour & Co. had taken over 8,000,000 bushels of open trades which, if not transferred, were critically in danger of not being safely settled in due contract time on the expiration of business hours at the end of the month.

In addition to the relief extended directly, Pres. Marcy ordered the sale of 2,000,000 bushels of wheat in the open market and was thus largely instrumental in preventing Chicago prices from paralleling the wild upward sweep that in Liverpool today came ahead of a steep subsequent fall.

The Armour sales of wheat were supplemented by simultaneous disposal of 1,000,000 bushels of corn and an equal quantity of oats.

These sales were afterward covered by numerous gradual purchases whenever pit conditions would allow without disturbing the course of prices. Mr. Marcy last night said: "The Chicago board of trade today owed a duty to the country not to close. It was not a similar case to that of the stock exchange in New York. Millions of bushels of grain in transit had to be cared for, and the effect on railroad and other interests had to be taken into account. Grain is commodities almost wholly unlike stocks and bonds."

Possibly a clear idea of the strain that reached the climax yesterday can be obtained from one verified example. On a single trade one firm here of excellent standing was called on for $550,000 in margins—$100,000 at first and $250,000 on a second demand.

THE ALASKAN VOLCANO

Effect of Last Eruption Described by Spectators—Death to Animal and Vegetable Life

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 1.—Mt.

Katmai, reported by Captain McFulloin of the steamer Dilgo, to be throwing out great volumes of sulphurous laden smoke, is a peak 7500 feet high, situated relatively near the eastern end of the Alaska peninsula and of the Aleutian mountains. The seaman reports the ocean for a distance of 100 miles to be discovered by sulphur dust and pumice. The last eruption of the volcano, in June, 1912, as described in a statement by the National Geographic society at Washington, D. C., compiled from data collected by George C. Martin, the geologist who directed the society's Alaskan volcano researches following Mt. Katmai's outbreak, was one of the most violent of historic time. "All southern Alaska knew at once of Katmai's eruption on the morning of June 6, 1912," reads the society's statement. "The sound of the first mighty explosion carried down the coast as far as Juneau, 150 miles away, and was even heard across the Alaska range at Dawson and Fairbanks, distance 850 and 550 miles, respectively. The column of steam and ash that rose several miles in the air was carried eastward by the wind and within a few hours had shed a shower of ashes all over the east end of the Alaska peninsula, the east half of Kodiak island and all of Afognak island. Intense darkness accompanied the fall and midnight blackness in the daytime extended as far east as the Kenai peninsula. Darkness lasted for 60 hours at Kodiak, 100 miles away. Dust fell as far away as Juneau, Kodiak and the Yukon valley, 750, 500 and 800 miles. The fumes were reported from points as far remote as Vancouver island and Puget sound, 1300 miles away. Subsequent terrific explosions occurred at 3 and 11 p. m. of the same day.

The effect of the eruption on what-ave vegetation clothed the flanks of the volcano was annihilation. The position of the death line around the volcano came practically down to the sea, 15 miles from the crater. Marine life was affected to a larger degree than would perhaps be expected. Bears, rabbits, reindeer and other animals and birds were made blind. Dead geese, ducks, ptarmigan, snipe, hawks and many small birds were found dead at the mouth of the Kachinak river. Man was indirectly affected by the eruption through the injury to other animal life and to vegetation. The eruption differs from almost all other known great eruptions in that the immediate damage to property was almost nothing, and that, as far as is known, it was not the direct and sole cause of the loss of a single human life. The sparse settlement of the district alone was responsible for this condition.

DEVORE AND CREE STARTED DOWN AND OUTERS ON UPWARD CLIMB

The Boston Braves and New York Yankees were for a time the mysteries of their leagues. Both had lots of ability on paper, and yet were floundering around in the second division. Something was missing, and both Stallings and Chance were busy trying to find out what it was. Finally Chance bought Cree from Baltimore, and Stallings got Devore from the Phillies. Immediately both clubs started to play winning ball and the Braves are now gracing the first division. Chance's crew is still very much in the lower order of things but have high-hopes of entering the select circle before the season ends.

UNCLE SAM POSSESSES GREATEST NAVAL SEARCHLIGHT IN WORLD

This is a picture of the largest searchlight in the world, and it belongs to the United States government. In case this country should be dragged into a general European war this giant eye of the night and others like it would play an important part. The light is of 500,000,000 candle power. It can throw a huge ray of light ten miles. At two miles away details of a ship can be thrown into a bright relief. The principal use of this light is to reveal the presence of submarines when a mile or two miles off. The navies of the old world are equipped with big searchlights, but nothing like this. The inventor, Heinrich Beck, is shown standing by the side of the light.

NEW CLUB HOUSE OPENED NEARLY KILLED LIFE SENTENCE DARLING WARDEN TOWN SCHOOL CHANGES

NEW CLUB HOUSE OF THE CENTRALVILLE SOCIAL CLUB
ON LAKEVIEW AVENUECentralville Social Club Moved to New Quarters—The Official Opening Next Month

The new home of the Centralville Social club is finished and the furniture and other paraphernalia of the organization were this morning removed into the new building. Although the new club house will be occupied, the official opening of the place will not be held until the latter part of August, when a banquet will mark the dedication of the structure. The arrangements for the opening of the new home are in the hands of a committee headed by Rosalie Lussier, a former president of the club, who will see that the event will be a notable one in the history of this young but prosperous organization.

The new building is of wood and cement and is one story in height with a large basement. The dimensions of the structure are 24 by 60 feet, which means that it is plenty large enough for a club building. It is located at the junction of Island street and Lakeview avenue in West Centralville on a fine tract of land purchased last year by the club. The basement is very spacious. It has a cement floor with metal ceiling and will serve as an amusement room and it is there that the pool and billiard tables will be located, and within a short time the members expect to install therein a couple of bowling alleys. There is also a small boiler room in the basement, where a steam boiler will be installed before the cold weather sets in.

The upper part of the building consists of a large assembly hall with an anteroom. This is where the club meetings will be held each Wednesday evening and also where Court St. Louis, P. F. A., Branch St. Louis, A. C. F. and N. N. Jacques council, U. St. J. Bto.

Motorcyclist Crashed
Into Wall at Corner of Moody and Aiken St.

William J. Queenan, a young man employed by James Vlahos, the wholesale dealer, and residing at 88 1/2 Vernon street, narrowly escaped death this afternoon when his motorcycle crashed into a brick wall at the corner of Moody and Aiken streets.

According to witnesses of the accident, Queenan was driving his cycle, which is equipped with a side car, down Moody street toward city hall at a moderate rate of speed. When he reached the junction of Aiken street he almost collided with an automobile owned and driven by J. A. Fillion, which was just turning the corner. In order to avoid a collision, Queenan turned to the right and his machine crashed into the brick wall. The fork of the cycle as well as the frame were broken, while the speedometer and the gear guard were torn off. The young man was thrown forcibly to the ground and lost consciousness. He was carried into Houle's drug store, where first aid was given him. After an examination it was found that Queenan suffered from a badly bruised shoulder, but fortunately no bones were broken. The damages to the cycle will be about $65.

YEAR'S WAR, $20,000,000,000

Estimated Cost of Operations With Twenty Million Soldiers in Europe, According to Experts

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Military experts here regard the probable cost of the conflict impending in Europe so vast as to be beyond reckoning. They assert that it is quite impossible to make even a guess as to the aggregate expenses.

The American Civil war expense on the union side was ordinarily reckoned at $1,000,000 a day for 500,000 men in the field. Another estimate that is often made is that of $1000 a year per man in the field.

Assuming that a general conflict will "go" into the field a maximum of 20,000,000 soldiers this basis would bring the total military expenditures alone up to $20,000,000,000, or about $50,000,000 a day.

Army officers point out that the military expense of such a conflict is only a portion of the actual cost. The shrinkage in security values, the stoppage of agriculture, the diminution of manufacturing and other industries, and the interference with trade and foreign commerce must all be included to arrive at any approximate estimate of the vast cost of a war in Europe.

STRIKE AFFECTS COKE OUTPUT

The output of coke in Colorado in 1913 was $70,451 tons, valued at $2,514,124, according to E. W. Parker, of the United States geological survey.

The decrease as compared with 1912 amounting to $2,450 tons in quantity and $228,506 in value, was due entirely to the labor troubles among the miners and not to adverse trade conditions. The principal disturbances were in Las Animas county, the leading coal-producing and coke-making county, and resulted in a decrease in coal production of nearly a million tons and in the whole of the decrease in the output of coke.

There are 15 coke-making establishments in Colorado, which operate 3,588 ovens, all of the beehive type. Six of the establishments, operating 724 ovens, were idle throughout the year. In addition to these idle plants, 850 ovens were idle at plants that made some coke in 1913, so that the total number of idle ovens was 1756, representing nearly half the operating capacity of the state. No new ovens were under construction at the end of the year.

According to returns made to the geological survey, the average value of Colorado coke advanced from $33.3 a ton in 1912 to $23.9 in 1913. In 1913 the average was $23.30. These fluctuations are, however, more apparent than real. A large proportion of the coke produced in Colorado is made in ovens which are part of plants, including in their operations coal mining, coke making, and the manufacture of iron and steel, or the smelting and refining of the precious and base metals. For such plants the placing of a value on the coke produced is an arbitrary matter and does not represent market prices. Only about 30 per cent. of the total output of Colorado in 1913 was commercial coke.

BILLARD RESIGNS

Meriden Man Quits New Haven and New England Navigation Co.

NEW HAVEN, Aug. 1.—The resignation of John L. Billard of Meriden from the directorates of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad company and the New England Navigation company was announced here yesterday. Homer S. Cummings of Stamford, his counsel, made the announcement after a conference with Mr. Billard.

Mr. Cummings' statement says that Mr. Billard desired to resign several months ago in order to be relieved from business cares, but refrained because "it did not seem desirable to take any step which might change the status of affairs while the interstate commerce commission was investigating the financial transactions of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad company."

The statement continues: "In view of the fact, however, that that investigation has been completed and a formal report filed, Mr. Billard now feels free to submit his resignation. It is only fair to say that there is an additional reason for filing his resignation."

"The report of the interstate commerce commission deals in part with the relations between the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad company and the Billard company. A committee of the directors of the railroad has been appointed to investigate and report further upon the Billard company affairs so far as the railroad company may be interested in them."

Mr. Billard feels that his continued presence on the board of directors might possibly be embarrassing to his associates in conducting that investigation and it is his wish that such investigation should be as full and complete and unimpeded in scope as the most exacting could require.

"Under these circumstances it will be manifest that the action taken by Mr. Billard was dictated by the strictest sense of propriety."

LOWELL'S PRIME NEED IS ROOM TO EXPAND

Map showing boundary line of Lowell and the adjoining towns with circles of one, two, three and four mile radii from Merrimack square. The Lowell boundary line is shaded and the lines between the towns are dotted. This shows that a circle of three miles radii from Merrimack square would include a considerable portion of Dracut, Tewksbury and Chelmsford.

Annexation of Part of Surrounding Towns Would Benefit City and Towns Alike—Advantages of Water Supply, Fire and Police Protection Together With the Full Use of Our Schools—Work for Board of Trade

The question of annexation is admitted to be one of the utmost importance to the future welfare of our city. In a recent interview with a Sun representative Secretary Murphy of the board of trade favored the annexation of all the territory within three miles of Merrimack square. This would take in the land as far down the river as Belle Grove and outward as far as Collinsville, North Chelmsford and Waverlet. Some are in favor of annexing North Billerica and the Boston & Maine car shops, but that territory is over four miles from Merrimack square.

If the area of our city were increased by a portion of the town of Dracut, including Belle Grove and the Navy Yard district, together with the intervening territory, there would then be considerable of an outlet for new industries and residential districts.

Here is a statement of the comparative areas in square miles:

Lowell	14.13	Tewksbury	22.
Billerica	26.6	Dracut	20.55
Chelmsford	25.	Tyngsboro	19.5

If cities are considered the area of Lowell is less than that of many other cities having a smaller population. In this respect the following table showing the comparative areas of Massachusetts cities:

	Population	Total Area (Acres)	Land	Water
Taunton	25,621	31,264.0	28,320.0	2,944.0
Boston	753,892	27,864.0	21,713.1	2,821.1

Quincy	64,912	10,726.0	10,726.0	1,000.0

Chelsea	32,452	1,440.0	1,270.0	170.0

A Serious Handicap
This drawback is certainly a handicap for the industrial growth of our city and one that should be overcome as soon as possible by annexation.

But while this addition would be very desirable it would not be quite so much so as North Chelmsford, the mills of which are on a line of railroad about three miles from Merrimack square and only a short distance beyond the city line. The city of Lowell had its origin in North Chelmsford and it would probably be best for both city and town to form a union in which the interests of both would be consolidated.

In consulting the heads of departments in Lowell it has been found that the water service could be easily extended to the towns; that fire protection could be provided at a moderate expense; that police protection would be made available without difficulty, while the schools of Lowell would be free to the people residing in the annexed districts.

The area of our city is very small in proportion to its population and hence more territory is needed to permit of easy growth. It may not be generally known that each of the neighboring towns has a much larger area than Lowell.

If we consider the comparative areas of Massachusetts cities of over 30,000, it will be found that Lowell is far down in the list, taking thirteenth place as appears from the following table:

	Population	Total Area (Acres)	Land	Water
Taunton	25,621	31,264.0	28,320.0	2,944.0
Boston	753,892	27,864.0	21,713.1	2,821.1

ject to joining Lowell on account of our tax rate, which at the present time happens to be unusually high, the town of Dracut could not use this argument as its tax rate at the present time is $27.60 per thousand. But the reason for this is but temporary. That should not constitute any bar to annexation.

Matter for Board of Trade
It would be well for the board of trade to take this matter up and formulate a plan for the annexation of a part of the town of Dracut to include Varnum's landing and the Navy Yard and also North Chelmsford. The aim in advocating annexation is not entirely selfish as the land annexed would soon be so increased in value that the owners would derive a substantial profit from the increment.

When prospecting industries come to Lowell, they find the area from which to select sites so small that it is difficult to secure desirable locations. This would be obviated by adding more territory for the purpose of developing it as an eventually to bring a revenue to the city while at the same time benefiting the owners.

Naturally one of the first questions asked by the residents of the towns would be what would Lowell do to improve our roads. It is very plain that a prime necessity that must be provided at any cost. The automobile is everywhere today and as a result bad roads are an abomination. The city that does not keep its streets and public thoroughfares in respectable condition must retrograde for visitors will avoid it. It is a poor place in which to live or do business unless the roads are kept up. That is one reason that offers an assurance to the towns that if any territory be annexed the roads thereof will be kept in good condition.

RESOLUTE WINS

Beats the Vanitie More Than 12 Minutes at Port Jefferson, N. J.

PORT JEFFERSON, N. J., Aug. 1.—The Resolute enhanced her light weather reputation yesterday by leading the Vanitie in another of the America's cup defense trials over the greater part of 35-mile zig-zag course in Long Island sound, winning by 12 minutes 4 seconds elapsed time, and 14 minutes 16 seconds corrected time.

The Vanitie made a poor start, but a shift of wind in the first hour lifted her to almost even terms with the Herreshoff yacht. Then the Resolute gradually drew away and gained continually.

A five-knot easterly breeze at the start faded to a mere breath half way on the course and then, shifting to southwest, had just enough force to wait the yachts to a sunset finish.

It was the initial run of the cruise of the New York Yacht club. Some of the cruising yachts did not finish the 35-mile course until after dark.

Winds have been far from good to the cup yachts this month. When they came out yesterday for a resumption of the trials the breeze began to subside at once, although two hours before it was blowing at a 10-knot rate.

The Vanitie gained the weather berth over the Resolute four minutes before the start, but was robbed of her advantage by two little Sound schooners, which were in the way.

Swinging away from the Resolute, the Vanitie lost headway and before she could fill away the former had the better berth and crossed the line well in the lead. In fact, the Vanitie was forced to swing away again and was handicapped 30 seconds in starting.

The first five miles was a boat to windward, with a favorable tide but with little wind movement.

The Resolute drew away gradually and was a quarter of a mile dead to windward when the breeze hailed to the south of east and the Vanitie could herself on virtually even terms with her rival, both yachts being able to lay the course to the first turn off Bridgeport, Conn., 30½ miles down the Sound, from the start.

For the next 15 miles the yachts sailed along slowly, but on the starboard tack, the Resolute outfooting the Vanitie until at the turn she had a lead of almost eight minutes.

The yachts had scarcely rounded when the breeze fell flat and then came from the westward. It was so light that both yachts started beating the balloon jib topsails. The Resolute increased her lead at the second mark to more than half an hour.

As the yachts heeled for the finish underneath the bluffs of Smithtown the breeze again fell to a whisper and it was with the greatest difficulty that any of the yachts reached the committee boat.

Sunset found the Resolute still two miles from the finish and heading to leeward in the lightest of airs, while the Vanitie was two miles astern and making even slower progress. It was 8:17.02 when the Resolute finally crossed the finish line. The Vanitie crossed at 8:30.41.

The Resolute's elapsed time was 9:01.37 and her corrected time 5:59.25. The Vanitie's elapsed time was 8:13.11, and her corrected time the same.

BLACKENED HER EYE ON HER OWN DOOR STEP

Just Because She Happened to Say Something About How a Certain Man Spent His Money
—$7 a Week Gambler in Court

Today's police court session was brief, but quite spicy, while it lasted, and several unfortunate offenders felt the grinding of the stern wheels of justice.

Buxom Katrina Tryack sat on her own back door steps a few nights ago and expounded upon the lack of economy employed by the father of a much misnamed young man who goes by the name of Mike (Maj). Mike's rear name was badly massacred when the police court officials endeavored to wrap their respective tongues around the same. However, to get on with the story—

Katrina was sitting on her door step, as we have mentioned, and made several caustic remarks about the manner in which Michael's male parent abused his week's wages. Just to show Katrina that whatever his father did was all right or that she shouldn't be so fresh or that he was a real fighter or some such reason, Mike punched Katrina right in the eye. If memory serves us correctly it was the left eye.

Judge Pickman had an excellent opportunity to see the discolored optic, for Katrina thrust it close to his visage. Then Lawyer Daniel J. Donahue made a few brief remarks relative to the protection of mild-mannered maidens and Lawyer Silverblatt came through with remarks, not so brief, to the effect that the defendant was not the worst chap in the world. "Gully" and "312," was Judge Pickman's disposal of the case. Thus did Katrina speak forth her innermost thoughts, receive a black eye and then wreak vengeance for the same.

The Way of the Transgressor

There was weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth at the conclusion of the case wherein Juliette Pelletier and Alexander Giroux were exchanged. The man is married and has one child. At the conclusion of the evidence the court awarded Sheriff Evelett both defendants. Giroux will stop at the Thorndike street establishment for 60 days while Juliette will linger for only half that period. The latter wept so copiously and with such vehemence that she was taken below decks before the court took up the next move toward purifying our city.

$7 a Week Gambler

Theodosius Boutsikaris is a gambler. Theo said so himself and Theo ought to know. He was before the court this morning for neglecting to provide support for his wife and infant. The charge greatly angered him.

Theo receives $7 per week when he works. Then, with his bankroll from the mill which employs him, gambles. Of course if Theo loses, how can the court expect him to pay a trivial thing like board and rent for his wife and child? That is certainly absurd to require of a gambler. But if he wins he takes care of his family. But he seldom wins. However, Theo neither wins nor loses for the next three months unless he inveigles the warden at the house of correction into a little game. His wife will receive $3 a week from the state while her husband is taking his vacation.

Other Police Court Cases

Alexander McKenzie and his wife, Bridget, provided a sad spectacle this morning in police court. The husband was charged by his wife with non-support. Both are very old and feeble and had all they could do to hobble around the courtroom. It was plainly evident that the old man could not earn enough to support his wife and preparations were made whereby they will both be given a home. Tears of gratitude ran down the withered cheeks of the old lady as she was led into the office of Probation Officer Slattery.

Thomas H. Murphy has a wife and seven children. His wife testified that her husband cared more for the flowing bowl than for his family circle or the latter's maintenance. Murphy was awarded a trip to Cambridge at the county's expense with the house of correction as his destination. Two months was the verdict.

Victor Boisvert and Georgiana Normand were given a severe lecture by the court for a statutory offence and also a $15 fine. Joseph A. Ferron, another non-support defendant, agreed to pay $4 a week toward his family's support and furnished a bond in token of good faith. Alexander Kennedy was the only drunken offender before the court, and Alex was given a week's time in which to collect his $8 fine.

GERMANY DEMANDS THAT MOBILIZATION BE STOPPED

Time Limit on Ultimatum to Russia
Expired at Noon — Germany May
Now Declare War—Bank of England
Today Raised Its Discount Rate to 10 Percent—Steamships Cancel Sailings—King George Continues Efforts to Avert General War

LONDON, Aug. 1.—A Daily News despatch from Berlin, timed at 2 a. m. this morning, says that Germany has addressed an ultimatum to Russia demanding that mobilization shall be stopped within 12 hours. A question has also been addressed to France, the despatch says, in regard to her attitude in certain contingencies.

The Daily Citizen's Paris correspondent reports that a general mobilization has been ordered.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—King George has sent an urgent message to the Russian emperor in an effort to avert war. When the news of King George's intervention with the Russian emperor was conveyed to the German embassy here it elicited the remark that it "tended to revive hope."

Ultimatums were sent today by Germany to France and Russia. Russia was ordered by Emperor William to stop mobilizing within 12 hours, expiring by noon, while France was given 18 hours to declare her attitude in certain contingencies.

Italy probably will remain neutral as she regards the campaign of her allies, Germany and Austria, as an aggression war, in which case she is not called to intervene.

King George made a final effort today to maintain peace by telegraphing to Emperor Nicholas of Russia.

The German ambassador was reported to have left St. Petersburg.

AMERICAN GAVE $1000 FOR STEER-

PARIS, Aug. 1.—The Cunard and International Marine steamship companies today announced a suspension of service for their vessels here.

Suspension of the service was upon orders received from the home offices of the Cunard line and the International Mercantile Marine in England. Hundreds of persons had engaged passage via these lines for Mediterranean and Scandinavian ports, and to these the companies announced, the passage money would be refunded.

Every berth on the Transatlantic steamers sailing before Sept. 15 has been sold and many thousands of Americans travelling here have become almost panic-stricken. One of them gave $1000 today for a steerage ticket.

Because of an alleged hitch in the resolution to borrow $225,000 for the erection and maintenance of a filtration plant at the boulevard the work may be delayed for a week or ten days or perhaps two weeks. The resolution was passed by the city council about ten days ago and, believing that the money would be available within a week after the resolution became operative, Commissioner Carmichael expected to break ground for the new plant the latter part of next week. The bankers, the men who loan the money, object to the 30-year term as

FRONT VIEW OF PROPOSED ARMENIAN ORTHODOX CHURCH

New Church Soon to be Erected on Lawrence Street—Considerable Building Activity

Lowell is soon to count another church as the members of the local Armenian colony have started work on the foundation of their new temple which will be erected on the Westworth estate in Lawrence st., which was purchased by the community. The proposed building will cost between $7000 and $8000, and it is believed it will be ready for service before the snow flies.

The building is being erected with public subscriptions, the members of the colony alone donating the sum of $3000. A committee known as the building committee and composed of seven members has been appointed with Marcus D. Manouelian as secretary, and it is believed within a few months the necessary amount will have been raised.

The work of digging for the foundation is being done by volunteers who work during the evening and the job is being rushed along, there being at times over 20 men at work. The new building will be of brick and the dimensions will be 34 by 75 feet. It will be one story in height with basement to be used as a vestry and the interior of the temple will be handsomely decorated. The new parish will be known as St. Gregory's and as soon as the church is completed a resident priestman will come to Lowell. It is desired that there are about four Armenians in Lowell. Bids for the new structure will be asked for as soon as the plans are accepted by the superintendent of public buildings and the contract will be awarded soon after. Contractors and the members of other building crafts are beginning to realize that business in the building line in Lowell is not so dull after all, for according to some of the contractors it is very difficult to find unemployed men in this particular line of work in Lowell. New buildings are being constructed and considerable changes in old dwellings are being made. There is no big job, such as mill construction, going on but every little helps and there is so much of the small work in progress that no one can complain.

Omer G. Lavallo has had his stable in the rear of his house in Merrimack street torn down and in its stead he will have a three-story dwelling house erected. The building will contain three tenements of six rooms each with pantry and bath and will be of the latest finish.

Jesse A. Viles is building an additional story to his home at 58 Coral street, which will be utilized as a chamber.

James W. Johnson has a number of men at work on repairing the fire damage at his property, 155 Jewett street, the work to consist of patching the roof, new window frames and interior alterations.

The property of Isaac Bernstein, numbered 605-09 Market street, is undergoing considerable changes. The store front is being changed and a new room of addition is being constructed on the fourth story. Good repairs will also be made in the interior of the building.

The house of Mr. Butterfield, formerly located in Totman street, and which has been moved into Johnson street, is now the property of William A. Miller, who is raising the roof four feet to give square rooms on the second floor. An addition will be constructed and interior alterations made.

Annie Kells has made plans for considerable changes to her property at 173-175 East Merrimack street. The roof of the building will be squared and the structure will be three stories instead of two and one-half. A large piazza will be constructed in the rear and two bay windows on the front of the building will be built. The corner of the building will be used on the covering of the bay windows. Two bath rooms will be fitted up and the approximate cost of the work will be $1000.

Israel Maunis has started work on the erection of a stable and carriage shed in the rear of his home, 123 Railroad street. The stable will be 14 by 21 feet, while the shed will be 13 by 21 feet. The cost of both structures will be $300.

Eva A. Jones has a gang of men at work on the erection of a dwelling house at 32 Rose avenue. The building will be two stories in height and will contain seven rooms with pantry and bath. The dimensions will be 23 by 28 feet and a steam heating system will be installed. The cost of the building will be about $1800.

A lot of work is being done on the building of Warren J. Blaisdell, 18 Lamb street. The building is being fitted up with a steam heating system and a new bay window is being put in. The window in the bath room will be changed. General repairs will be made throughout the house.

Seven-room house with pantry and bath is being erected for Ida E. Partridge at 121 Warwick street. A steam heating system will be installed and the cost of the building will be about $2000.

The two and a half story building at 11 Duane st. Charles street will soon become a three-story affair. Men are now at work on squaring the pitched roof, and when the work is completed the building will contain three five-room tenements. A large piazza will be built in the rear with own driveway.

Joshua Butler is repairing the fire damage at his property numbered 129 Stevens street, this consisting of rebuilding the roof and interior alterations.

A building owned by the estate of Isabella Griffin and located at 17 Lincoln street, is being changed over from a pitch to a square roof in order to provide square rooms on the second story. A new bath will also be installed on the second floor.

Now John Hartford has men at work on remodeling her building at 238 East Merrimack street. Extensive changes are being made in the interior of the house and two new bath rooms will be installed.

Chas. Horton and Charles M. Bixby are building a garage, between 27 and 25 Duane street. The building will be of wood with a concrete foundation and the dimensions will be 24 by 26 feet.

The storage shed of Samuel Rostler in the rear of 51 Queen street, will be boarded up on the side, the pitched roof will be removed and in its place a flat roof will be constructed.

The residence of Albert S. Howard at 761 Andover street will undergo several changes the work to be started next week. The kitchen will be enlarged and a chamber and bath will be added on the second story. Several other interior changes will be made and a new bath room will be installed on the third floor, the entire job to cost about $1200.

Charles H. McIntyre has made plans for the repair of fire damage at his building numbered 179 East Merrimack street. A new steel ceiling will be put in and a new door with plate glass will be added. The floor and partitions will also be repaired.

INDICATIONS THAT NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE WILL BE CLOSED INDEFINITELY

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The New York stock exchange, closed yesterday for an indefinite period, remained closed today with indications that its doors would not open until such time as the European situation would show marked improvement.

There will be no unaided opening of the exchange, according to one of its officials, as every member will be given at least 12 hours notice in advance of the opening. This official added that it was his opinion that the exchange would remain closed for some time.

KAISER SAYS PEACE COULD BE MAINTAINED IF RUSSIA WOULD CEASE ACTIVITIES

BERLIN, Aug. 1.—The North German Gazette, the official organ of the government, says that after the Russian emperor had given the order for the mobilization of the entire Russian army and fleet Emperor Wilhelm issued a final telegram to Emperor Nicholas in which he made it clear that his responsibility for the security of the German empire compelled him to adopt defensive measures.

NATIONAL PENNY BANK IN LONDON WAS ORDERED CLOSED TODAY

LONDON, Aug. 1.—The National Penny bank, an institution with many

to the bank at the customary opening hour.

The crowd increased as the morning passed and an hour after the opening some 500 persons were lined up while the streets nearby were filled with curious on-lookers.

Strong Force of Police on Duty

The bank porters had been sworn in as special policemen so that they could more easily handle the crowds and in case of necessity arrest disturbers. A strong force of the city police was on duty to deal with the crowd outside the bank premises.

At holiday resorts there are usually refused and in fact in London restaurants and theatres, notes are changed at the best of times only for customers and others who are known personally, so that persons with pockets full of paper money often and themselves unable to buy anything.

The closing of the National Penny bank, whose customers are mostly working people, caused no excitement whatever. Not a person appeared in front of the head office. A similar quiet prevailed at other banks and there was no sign of a run.

Investment street, where stock-brokers usually assemble, was deserted today, the brokers having gone away for the holiday. In fact the traffic to the holiday resorts was heavier today than it had ever been.

Many who had intended to take short trips to the continent having decided to remain in the British Isles.

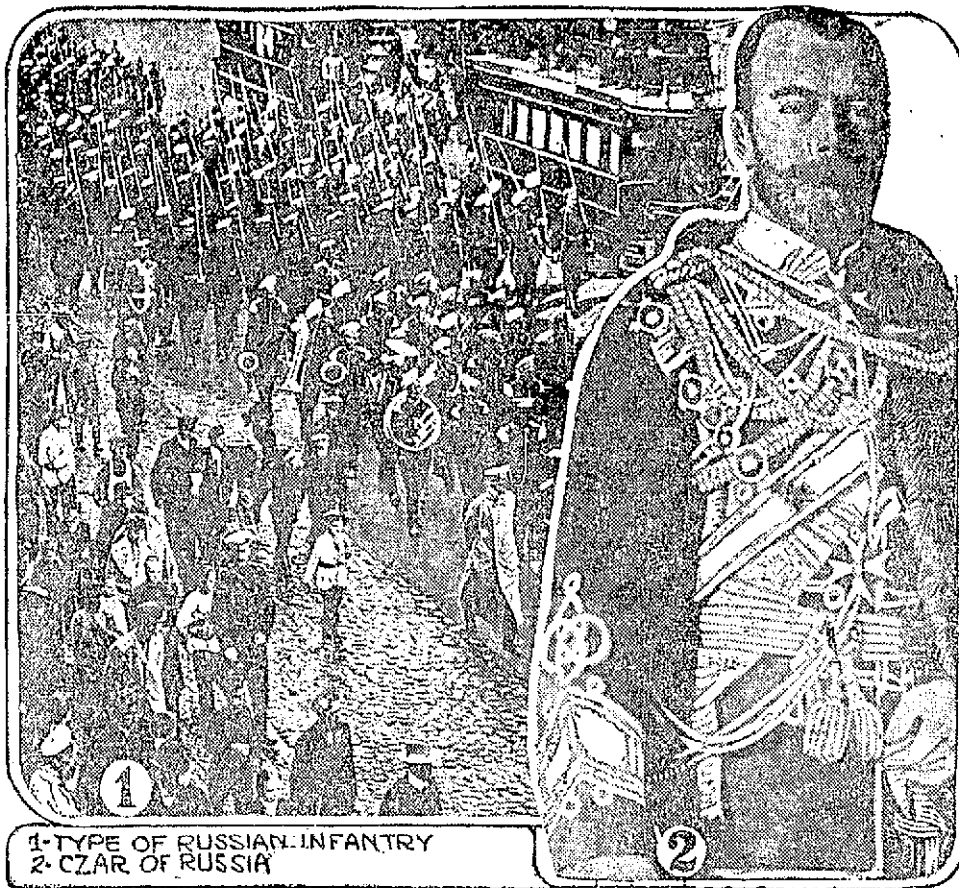

The Police Mercantile & Shipping exchange is to be opened on Monday, an unprecedented occurrence on a bank holiday.

DECISION IN MEDIATION PROPOSAL WAS TO HAVE BEEN TAKEN TODAY

BERLIN, Aug. 1.—An official communication published today in the North German Gazette says the Russian emperor on July 29 telegraphed to Emperor Wilhelm, urgently requesting him to help in averting the misfortune of a European war and to try to restrain his Austria-Hungary from going to war.

Emperor Wilhelm replied that he would willingly take up the task of mediator and accordingly diplomatic action was initiated in Vienna.

While this was in progress the news that Russia was mobilizing arrived in Berlin and Emperor Wilhelm telegraphed to the emperor of Russia that

AS RESULT OF THE AUSTRO-SERVIAN WAR

2-CZAR OF RUSSIA

At the age of forty-six Czar Nicholas II. of Russia finds himself plunged into the gravest international difficulty of recent years. Upon his orders the great Russian army—it is estimated that it numbers 5,500,000 on a war basis—started to mobilize. Troops marched through the capital amid great enthusiasm of the people, as illustrated in the accompanying picture, taken on an occasion of peace.

AMBASSADORS AT POSTS

SEC. BRYAN ORDERS PROMPT REPORTS IF AMERICANS ARE KILLED OR INJURED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—In order to keep in close touch with the war developments in Europe and to have prompt information about Americans living or traveling in the affected countries, all American ambassadors and ministers abroad are to be kept closely at their posts.

Secretary Bryan yesterday cabled the American diplomats in the countries which may be involved, instructing them to report promptly by cable the cases of all Americans killed, injured or distressed.

Ambassador Page is now in England and Ambassador Gerard is in Germany. The retiring ambassador to France, Myron T. Herrick, is to be asked to remain in Paris until his successor, ex-Representative Sharpe, arrives.

Ambassador Page, at Rome, who had planned to leave for the United States shortly, is to be asked to stay at his post. The ambassador to Spain, Jos.

WILKINSON, who plans for leave for Madrid next Tuesday, was at the White House yesterday inquiring about the situation.

The new ambassador to Russia, Mr. Mayne, plans to leave for St. Petersburg as soon as he can obtain passage.

The war department has concluded to rely upon its existing force of military attaches in the European embassies and legations for the present, at least, to gather information of military value during the war. These officers are already on the ground, speak the language of the country to which they are accredited and are well acquainted with the officials to whom they must look for information.

Therefore, it is the intention of the department to refrain for the present from detaching special observers, although about half of the officers of the army have applied for such detail.

COLLEGE ALUMNI

Arranged for Annual Reunion on Aug. 13.—Important Meeting Held Last Night

An important meeting of the members of St. Joseph's college alumni was held last night at the college hall in Merrimack street for the purpose of completing arrangements for the annual reunion, which will be held on Thursday, Aug. 13. The meeting was largely attended and President Wilfred P. Caisse, Jr., occupied the chair. Considerable business was transacted and a feature of the evening was the nomination of officers, the election to be held on the night of the banquet.

As usual the nomination brought forth a lively contest with the exception of the positions of president, treasurer, secretary and assistant secretary. Those nominated were as follows: John B. Richard, president; Arthur Smard and Lucien F. L. Turcotte, vice-presidents; Edmund N. Foley, treasurer; Arthur Giroux, secretary; George E. Cossette, assistant secretary; Ulric Dalmeault, Arthur St. Hilaire, Honorables Ducharme, Arthur L. Lamoureux, Leonie Gionet, Roderick E. Jodoin, J. A. N. Chretien, Eugene Riard, Isidore Trudel and Armand Marchand, directors. Out of ten candidates for directors five will be chosen.

At the close of the nomination it was unanimously voted to elect President Caisse honorary president of the organization as a token of appreciation for services rendered the alumni during his two terms as president. Several members of the alumni addressed the gathering and all indications point to a very successful outing this year.

FRIENDS THEN, ENEMIES NOW—KAISER AND KING OF ENGLAND RIDING TOGETHER IN GERMANY'S CAPITAL

KAISER WILHELM AND KING GEORGE SNAPPED IN BERLIN

This picture possesses unusual interest at this time because it shows the kaiser and the king of England as they appeared riding together in Berlin last year. Now the European war situation places them as enemies of one another.

GENERAL STRIKE THREAT FISHERMEN BLOCKADED

INTERNATIONAL SOCIALIST CONGRESS WILL MEET IN PARIS AUG. 8TH

PARIS, Aug. 1.—An international general strike of the mining and transportation industries all over Europe may be ordered by the international socialist congress in case of an all-European war.

The congress, which was originally planned for Aug. 23 in Vienna, has been changed to this city, on Aug. 8. The change is due to the determination of the international socialist organization, which numbers 12,500,000 members, to avert the impending conflagration of all Europe over the Austria-Servia war.

Two years ago, when France and Germany were on the brink of war over Morocco, it was the socialist of Germany who frightened the two governments into a peace agreement by their huge anti-war demonstrations all over Germany and France. At one demonstration alone in Berlin 100,000 pledged themselves against war.

It is the general conviction among the socialists gathered here that the present international conflict, brought on by the monarchical heads of Europe, will be averted by the masses if they refuse to mine coal or transport arms, ammunition, troops or food for the warring engaged.

The calling of this vast international strike will probably be the first and most important resolution to be acted on by the congress. The sentiment among the delegates is overwhelmingly for a general strike. The strike question was discussed at the last international socialist congress four years ago, and a committee was appointed to draw up resolutions for the present congress to act upon.

It is the report and the resolutions of this committee which will embody the motion for an international general strike. If the resolution is passed, miners in every nation will throw down their picks and transport workers will refuse to move any of the machinery of war.

Morris Hillquit, lawyer, of New York, one of the leading socialists in this country and secretary to the international socialist bureau, said yesterday: "There is a strong sentiment on the part of the powerfully organized socialists and trade unionists all over Europe against war. In the present instance there is nothing to fire the imagination, and action will follow such as the socialists have launched with undoubtedly have its effect."

ICEBERGS TIE UP TRAFFIC IN LABRADOR HARBOR

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 1.—The harbors along the Labrador coast are blockaded by ice and the condition of the fishermen is most serious, according to Captain Johnstone of the United States revenue cutter Seneca which arrived here yesterday.

When several miles southeast of Indian harbor, Labrador, July 13, the Seneca was surrounded by a heavy field of ice and 15 bergs were sighted, Captain Johnstone reported. He also declared that there were 2000 icebergs between Indian harbor and Flemish.

The Seneca, owing to the presence of so many bergs and to the conditions along the coast, which were said to be the worst for years, was compelled to abandon an observation cruise toward Greenland.

BANK OF ENGLAND TODAY RAISED ITS DISCOUNT RATE TO 10 PER CENT.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—The Bank of England today raised its discount rate to 10 per cent.

The scenes witnessed at the Bank of England yesterday during the rush to obtain gold in exchange for banknotes were repeated this morning, but on a still larger scale. A few people who had been too late to get currency yesterday afternoon spent the night in the vicinity of the bank and reached the quadrangle at daybreak as to be first in line today. The majority of people, however, came to the city in their usual leisurely manner and went his role as mediator was by this endangered if not made impossible.

The communication adds that a decision was to have been taken in Vienna today in regard to the mediation proposals, in which Great Britain had joined Germany but that meanwhile Russia had ordered the full mobilization of her forces. Upon this Emperor Wilhelm addressed a last telegram to Emperor Nicholas emphatically declaring that his own responsibility for the safety of the German empire had forced him to take defensive measures.

$422,796,525 IN DEBT

Total of 48 State Governments on June 30, 1913—National and State Indebtedness

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 1.—The full report on national and state indebtedness and funds and investments from 1870 to 1913 has just been issued by Director William J. Harris of the bureau of the census, department of commerce. The bulletin gives information for the United States as a whole and for each state separately, and it is now ready for distribution.

According to this bulletin, the total debt of the 48 state governments on June 30, 1913, amounted to $422,796,525. Of this total, $103,366,565 represented funded debt, and $19,420,856 represented floating debt. Of the funded debt, $264,836,427 was represented by bonds and $38,530,142 are special debt obligations to public trust funds.

As an offsetting item against this total debt, the 48 states reported $76,980,571 in sinking fund assets, leaving their debt (less sinking fund assets) $345,815,954. The per capita debt for the 48 states amounted to $5.57 on June 30, 1913.

In contrast with the debt of the 48 state governments, the national government had a total debt on June 30, 1913, of $2,916,204,914. Of this total, $1,454,420,000 was funded debt, and $1,461,784,914 was floating debt. The funded debt amounted to $1,454,420,000, while the floating debt amounted to $1,461,784,914. The national debt (less sinking fund assets) amounted to $2,839,224,343. The per capita debt for the United States amounted to $55.71 on June 30, 1913.

The figures in the report show that Arizona and Massachusetts are the only states where the state debt, less sinking fund assets, amounts to more per capita than $10.50. The debt of the national government, therefore, is a greater financial weight upon the people of every state in the Union than the debt of the state in which they live. In only a very small number of states does the per capita state debt amount to one-half the per capita debt of the national government. New York, for example, has a per capita state debt of $9.06, due largely to the cost of the Erie canal; while other states show a very low per capita debt, for Kansas, $0.14; for Iowa, $0.18; for New Jersey, $0.24; while for Pennsylvania it is nothing, since in that state the sinking fund assets exceed the total debt.

Mr. Edward Rudolph Welch has accepted a position with the Texas Oil company.

APPEAL FOR MAINE FUSION

H. P. GARDNER, CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR, CALLS ON COLONEL ROOSEVELT AT OYSTER BAY

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Aug. 1.—H. P. Gardner, progressive candidate for governor of Maine, called on Theodore Roosevelt yesterday and to him the former president gave a typewritten statement and a letter to be read by Mr. Gardner when he opens his gubernatorial campaign.

In the two communications Colonel Roosevelt defined his attention on the question of fusion between progressives and republicans. The progressives, said the colonel, would be delighted to work with republicans endeavoring "to overthrow republican political bosses, but would not ally themselves with 'the old-time type' of republicans."

Mr. Roosevelt's pronouncement was called forth by Mr. Gardner's statement to him that the progressives of Maine were alarmed by published reports of a contemplated general fusion with republicans.

In his letter Colonel Roosevelt said he hoped to visit them on Aug. 13 to speak to and for them. He would voice his appeal, he said, not only to progressives, but also to republicans and democrats.

It was not decided last night in which Maine city Colonel Roosevelt would speak on Aug. 13. Mr. Gardner was inclined toward Lewiston.

THE SPELLBINDER

While looking through Cowley's history of Lowell recently, I came across the following:
"The demoralization of our local politics began some time prior to 1850 and was much accelerated by the coalition of that time."
And politics, or the representation of politics, must be in a very much demoralized condition today when one of the members of the municipal council sends out police inspectors to watch another member of the municipal council during the progress of a hearing on charges against a head of a department. Mayor, Murphy and Commissioner Brown and the commissioner and Supt. Welch had verbal set-toes a few days ago. It is said, over the allegation on the part of the commissioner that placed police inspectors on his trail during the Putnam hearing. Fine business!

De Profundis

Out of the depths came a faint voice from the past, a few evenings ago, when it was announced that the republican city committee was to hold a meeting. Outside of making a number of creditors sit up and take notice, the committee's action caused much of a stir in the community. The remnants of the local G. O. P. drafted ex-Senator Horle Hilton to preside and Horle, who was ever ready to help out the party, responded gracefully and did a good job as presiding officer. This new character, however, long since sent the local party machine to the tomb while a couple of hands that have never been paid for their services at party pow-wows, would gladly have played a dirge over the remains of the machine without expense to the surviving republicans, and speaking of hands that play "for their health," the members of the Lowell Cadet band are beginning to wonder if that was a "charity" job they did last election night when they were routed out after the returns came in to furnish music for the victorious party. They paraded the streets mingling the strains of their latest compositions, with the rousing cheers for Mayor Murphy, but as yet there has been no "come back" in the shape of money and it is believed that henceforth, with the Cadets, all political jobs will be "C. O. D."

The Eighth District

A well known republican told me a few days ago that the republicans of the eighth senatorial district haven't much hope of electing a republican in that district with a progressive in the field and that some popular democrat could get the republican support. I mentioned the four gentlemen already in the contest but he passed them all up as undesirable.

The Putnam Case

It is taking the commissioners much longer to decide the Putnam case than it has taken the public, for with the latter it is the general belief that Supt. Putnam will be excused. Already two of the commissioners, Messrs. Brown and Donnelly have voted to exonerate him and the third man is on the way. But it would appear that the third man doesn't want to flop over too suddenly particularly if earlier in the year he expressed himself as willing to vote to remove Mr. Putnam when Commissioner Morse was ready to start the removal proceedings.

A Sensitive Politician

The Old Timer hands me the following editorial from The Sun of 25 years ago:
"He has come to us that the Hon. Francis Jewett of this city, candidate for the republican nomination for lieutenant-governor, objects to being called 'Pa.' We cannot see why he should object. President Harrison is called 'Grandpa' and Mr. Jewett hopes to be president. It is one of the penalties of greatness to be called disagreeable names."
While the late Mr. Jewett might have been sensitive, the same cannot be said of his grandson, Rep. Victor Jewett, for call the latter what you will, he'll come back smiling and his favorite ditty is as follows:

"Be good, be good," my grandpa said,
"Though the roads be rough and
Some of you may be senator
Or the mayor of the city."

O'Connor for Congress

J. Joseph O'Connor, the well known attorney is among the early birds to take out nomination papers. Mr.

THE CHARM OF MOTHERHOOD

Enhanced By Perfect Physical Health.

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

For over thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

For over thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

O'Connor seeks the democratic nomination for congress in the 11th district and thus far no other democratic candidate has been mentioned. As Humphrey O'Sullivan has decided not to be a candidate so long as Mr. O'Connor is in the field. He does not believe in a local contest within the democratic party for the nomination. Mr. O'Connor has had much political and parliamentary experience in the past and there is nothing in his political record that would operate against him as a candidate. He was a delegate to the last democratic national convention at Baltimore where he made a most favorable impression among his fellow delegates from this state. At the convention Mr. O'Connor like practically all of the Massachusetts delegates, with the notable exception of Hon. William S. McNary and Charles B. Strecker, was a supporter of Champ Clark, but Messrs. McNary and Strecker had the right dose on the outcome for they were Wilson men throughout.

A Daniel Come to Judgment

The "Complacent Citizen" of the Courier-Citizen, offers a thoroughly logical scheme to bring the eighth senatorial district back into the republican fold. Discussing the affairs of the eighth district the C. C. of the C. C. says:
"Suppose, for example, that Dr. Livingston, with an eye to strategy, should go into the republican primary and give him the bolus he has previously held by Senator Dwyer."
Some scheme; though the law might put that strategic eye in mourning. Evidently Mr. Dwyer of Somerville and his 20th century housewife have slipped the memory of the Complacent Citizen and it is likewise evident that the Complacent Citizen hasn't had time to vote in any of the recent primaries, otherwise he would know that the day of the separate primaries is long since passed away and now the voters of all parties assemble at their polling places for the primary election at the same time and place. It is not so, however, as he calls for his ballot.

It would be very unfortunate for Dr. Livingston, as a progressive to ask for a republican or even a republican-independent ballot. If the primary officials were disposed to enforce the law, and furthermore as the time for changing party enrollment expired in June, Dr. Livingston did not return to the republican fold in a legal manner within the prescribed time in still ranks as a member of the bull moose party, which is a recognized political party, and hence neither democratic, republican nor independent. However, the writer meant well.

"Joe" Hubbard Unsettled

While it has been announced that "Joe" Hubbard will be a candidate for the republican nomination for councillor, there appears to be a "perhaps" going with the announcement, for "Joe" isn't fussy about the place if he can get in on the nomination for the legislature in the 14th district. "Joe" has his weather eye on that legislative nomination from ward one and Dr. Livingston has a subsequent election in his mind. He is worried at this writing there is a progressive candidate in the field and with a progressive running "Joe" figures that it will be awfully hard work to defeat Rep. John J. Brennan for a second term. "Joe" would like very much to have the progressives overlook the 14th representative district this year, but it would appear that that can't be done anything or anyone, barring perhaps Earl C. Grover, whose announcement of his retirement was not met with any violent protests from the big guns of the party, and it is a good bet that there will be a progressive candidate in that district this fall.

The County Commissionership

It looks awfully bad for Chairman Gould of the county commission at this writing. His own party wants a change and if they don't get it in the primaries they will take a chance and effect it on election day. Major Barnes of somewhere down the county, is the republican contender and they say he is going some. An interesting three-cornered contest will be waged in the democratic primaries for the nomination for county commissioner between Hon. John F. Sparks of Draught, Senator Charles McCarthy of Marlboro and Deputy Sheriff Walsh of South Framingham. All three, while democrats, have represented republican districts in the legislature, while Messrs. Sparks and McCarthy have been in the senate from republican districts. On the other hand Messrs. Sparks and Walsh have been selected in republican towns. As Messrs. McCarthy and Walsh represent the same end of the county it is expected that they will split the vote of that end, although ex-Senator Sparks can run on an even footing with either of them, in Cambridge. By a split vote between the lower end of the county and the pair and the northern end solidly for Sparks as his friends are confident it will be, the popular Draught man looks like a pretty good bet for the nomination. Senator McCarthy, like ex-Senator Sparks is a man of wide-spread popularity while Sheriff Walsh through his long connection with county affairs is also well known. The coming election will be but a further attempt to break up the old "county ring" that has had control in Middlesex county for many, many years. A slight puncture was put in the "ring" by the election of Mr. Barlow last year, but Messrs. Gould and Williams have combined against him and have won the county chairmanship. In order to completely shatter the "ring" either Gould or Williams must be defeated and as Gould is the first one up, and has held the job since Adam was a youth, it is likely that the venerable commissioner will be the victim.

Dan Cosgrove Out

Dan Cosgrove, looking the picture of health and contentment, armed with an umbrella and fortified with a good cigar, walked along Court street, in Boston, Wednesday, probably en route to the progressive headquarters to see what was going on. It seems rather another candidate for the county commissioner was in circulation in Boston and elsewhere several days before Dan made up his mind not to run again. Can it be that it was a case of "Here's your hat, what's your hurry?" in Dan's mind all he had to do to boost the progressive ticket last year?

Are You Suffering From Auto-Intoxication?

The dictionary says that Auto-Intoxication is "poisoning, or the state of being poisoned, from toxic substances produced within the body." This is a condition due to the stomach, bowels, kidneys, liver, or pores of the body failing to throw off the poisons. More than 50% of adults are suffering from this trouble. This is probably why you are suffering from nervousness, headaches, loss of appetite, lack of ambition, and many other symptoms produced by Auto-Intoxication. Your whole system needs stirring up.

ular impression that the contest for the republican nomination in the 17th district would be between Representatives Jewett and Achin, the former and a day candidates, and John C. Leggett and Adelard Berard. It would now appear that there are other ambitious contenders in the field, including Loraine B. Kew, son of the late Capt. William H. Kew; Fred G. Humphrey of Bunting club fame, and ex-Alderman Smith J. Adams. Undoubtedly with Messrs. Jewett and Achin it is a case of the more the merrier, for the greater the number of candidates the better their chances. All of the republican candidates mentioned look like vote-getters, and hence the vote in the primaries will be widely split. The democratic candidates are ex-Aldermen Joseph J. Dedmon, Jr., and Heretie A. Zoupl and John H. Smith, a well known and popular young democrat, who has never held office.

Paying Water Bills
The time for paying water bills so as to receive the benefit of the discount expired this week and those who paid their bills were painfully aware of two facts. One was that it cost them considerably more for water this year than last, and the other was that while the water cost more this year than last its quality was no better.

Police Were Filled

Despite the efforts of the police to keep down the number of arrests, they were filled this week and those who paid their bills were painfully aware of two facts. One was that it cost them considerably more for water this year than last, and the other was that while the water cost more this year than last its quality was no better.

Pulling the Parallel Columns

On page seven of the Courier-Citizen this morning the "Complacent Citizen" lauds Mayor Murphy for making good his campaign promise to use the police department to clean up the city. Side by side with the item, in the adjoining column, as if placed there by design is the following item: "According to the police court records, Lowell hasn't been exactly on its good behavior of late. There has been a lot of petty thefts have been unusually numerous."

Catching a Horse Thief

Mayor Murphy advocates the purchase of a fast automobile for the police department, and the Courier-Citizen says: "The celebrity with which the thief was run down by one of the city autos on Thursday has convinced Mayor Murphy that it might be well to purchase a light, speedy car for the police department to be used in the event of any emergency call." But the city auto didn't run down the thief last Thursday for the culprit was overtaken and arrested by Officer Matt McCann on a police department motorcycle, purchased a year ago.

Back to the Horse

With $3000 safely stowed away in the treasury, perhaps since the beginning of the year, for the purchase of a new auto for the chief of the fire department, Chief Saunders has been forced to fall back on the horse and wagon of late as the auto now in his possession is in danger of falling apart. It seems strange that some heads of departments can get an auto for the asking, even with the emergency clause tacked on to expedite the purchase, while the chief who needs a new machine more than any other head of department cannot seem to get one. Supt. Morse made good his determination not to use the city automobile except on city business, last week, by riding

THE WAR FEVER

We read that in medieval times terrible plagues occasionally swept over Europe devastating immense territories and depopulating cities. Culture, progress, wealth, civilization fell before its ravages and when the dread presence had passed, the afflicted countries labored for years to regain their old standing. Such plagues luckily no longer visit our more enlightened earth, but the two and three line despatches that come from the world's capitals at the present time announce the spread of the awful war fever throughout the whole of Europe. Though yet in its incipient stages, it threatens to sweep over Austria, Serbia, Russia, France, England, and half a dozen of the lesser powers. If the efforts of peace-loving statesmen in all countries do not avail, its results may be more dread than those of any pest that has scourged the world since the dawn of history. Though all hope of peace or hope of only a brief contest between a few powers have not been abandoned, we may be on the eve of the greatest war in the history of mankind.

Up to yesterday Germany seemed to be unwilling to actively participate in the contest between Austria and Serbia, merely indicating her desire to aid Austria by keeping outside aid from the lesser power. Russia, however, which is bound by racial and political ties to Serbia, and which has also good reason to oppose Austria, began to mobilize her armies. This drew forth a sharp protest from Germany and a demand for an explanation. The outcome seems to be that both Russia and Germany are preparing to be on opposite sides of the present controversy. Whether this will mean the participation of England, Italy, France and the lesser powers cannot be accurately foretold, but there is far more cause for pessimism than for optimism in the present outlook.

The chief consideration which prevents a too hopeful view of the future is that the present war between Austria and Serbia, with possible interference by Germany and Russia, is the culmination of international differences that have kept Europe ready for war at all times for the past twenty years. America, because of its isolated geographical position and the peculiar circumstances that keep it out of diplomatic tangles, can scarcely realize the state of the popular mind in middle Europe where Slav, Teuton, Serb and other racial stocks view each other with aversion and mutual distrust. Then too subject powers or powers partially subject are prevented from harboring ambitions of independence by standing armies that inflame the passions of the dominated country. Another factor that makes for war is the usual poverty of the lower classes and the recklessness which it entails. Millions of people in Europe cannot be very materially affected by the outcome of the present situation, and when this is so, war is to be expected.

If the triple alliance—Austria, Germany, Italy—and the triple entente—France, Russia, England—take their respective sides and if all the minor dependencies such as the smaller powers of the Balkan belt do likewise, what will be the result? First of all there is the possibility of the most terrible conflict in history, participated in by over 20 millions of soldiers. And when some side triumphs, what will be the effect on Europe? Industrially the result will be almost disastrous. Trade and commerce will have been disorganized; scientific progression will have been impeded for years; new hatreds and differences will have been engendered; taxes will have mounted by millions; the markets of the world will have been disrupted. Considering all the loss in money, in human life, in resources, in everything that makes for the vitality of a nation, what possible political or geographical change can offset it? Truly, the war fever is passing over Europe and if the attack be serious, it will leave many a nation depleted, sick and sorry when the thunders of the cannon are finally hushed.

THE HOME RULE SITUATION

The European war will not injure the Irish home rule situation. The delay of course is aggravating, but the cause will not suffer in the meantime unless some unfortunate outbreak should turn public sympathy to the Ulstermen. The fact that the Nationalist Volunteers are now, or will soon be, armed will cause the government to choose between the less of two evils, namely, rebellion by one fifth of Ireland or by four fifths.

Premier Asquith is letting the matter rest until the Irish party recovers from the shock of the Dublin tragedy and so that all parties may be united in the interest of England in the war crisis. But we doubt the willingness of Irishmen to enlist in large numbers to fight for England unless they first see justice done to their own country. They want to see the Irish people invested with the power of making their own laws and they will not submit to any dismemberment of the Irish nation. They do not want a revival of the religious pale of persecution days, yet that is practically what Sir Edward Carson wants. It would be worse than a plague, and fully as detrimental to Ulster as to any other part of Ireland.

It is probable that ultimately the amending bill will be passed in its original form which would give the Ulster counties the right to vote on the question of self exclusion for six years. The Nationalists have already conceded that, feeling confident that no county could carry a vote for exclusion. The Ulstermen want exclusion of four or six counties provided for in the bill without any time limit; but to this neither the Irish party nor the Liberals will ever agree. Had the bill been brought up for a second reading this week, the Nationalists would have stood solidly against all concessions and that is probably what they will do anyhow in spite of the delay. In any case it is believed that the home rule bill will become law this month without any material change.

Meantime the solidarity of the whole Irish race in support of the volunteers will have its effect in convincing the government that any betrayal at the eleventh hour would be the signal for a rebellion or a civil war. The friends of Ireland have reason to feel gratified that even the army revolt, the king's conference, the Dublin tragedy and finally the European war have all tended to strengthen Ireland and to weaken the opposition to her just demands which cannot now by any possibility be denied.

THE PRESIDENT INTERFERES

The interference of President Wilson in the controversy that threatens to tie up the railroads west of the Mississippi does not in any way exaggerate the importance of the situation for if mediation fails and if the trainmen strike, only direct government interference could restore normal conditions. In the meantime the country would suffer a loss of millions and the inconvenience to business would be enormous. In all probability a vast section of the country would be reduced to positive suffering by the shortage of foods, the stagnation of industry and the lack of adequate transportation. In view of this, the president has done well in inviting members of the mediation board, leaders of the railroad union, and representatives of the railroad officials to a conference at Washington.

There is no doubt that if the trainmen should strike as they threaten, thus indirectly making the public suffer for a private misunderstanding, the government would devise some method of keeping the trains running. Such an outcome might be the first step in eventual federal or state ownership, and though the masses of the public do not yet desire this, they would be forced to support it in the face of a greater evil. If the unionized trainmen could be led to see the situation as the rest of the country sees it, they would readily admit that the declaring of an intended strike imposes an obligation on them which they cannot regard lightly. And they might also be led to see that under any circumstances, a great strike in a public utility might invite permanent harm to their cause that would destroy the temporary gain.

So far as the actual outcome is concerned in the present instance, the east does not believe that the threatened strike will take place. Mediation has not yet failed flatly; yet there is enough in future possibilities to instill caution into the principals on both sides. The Washington conference may smooth away the present difficulties and show the trainmen and the officials the dangers of a like situation next time. The whole country is expectant and hopeful. Let us hope that its confidence will be rewarded.

DISCOLORED BUT PURE

The water tests recently made by Inspector Weston of the state board of health were to determine principally whether the water going under the river in the supplementary 24-inch main is pure or not, but they reaffirmed what had been officially stated many times previously, to wit: that though our water is discolored and to some slight extent disagreeable to the taste, it is not injurious to health. Scattered reports from various sections indicate a desire on the part of individuals to attribute indisposition to the city water, but this could be explained on the ground of imagination, for a sensitive stomach might be expected to reject what the eye and the palate condemn.

So fixed is the popular impression that only clear water is healthy that Lowell citizens will not feel satisfied until the external impurities are removed, and the making of preliminary plans for the great filtration plant will arouse general enthusiasm. If, however, it be discovered that the popular hope was misplaced, the disappointment will be acute. That our once peerless water supply should have degenerated so sadly is a matter for general regret, and all will hope that Commissioner Carmichael's plans will be crowned with success.

In the meantime people should not feel diffident about using the city water if they can conquer their aversion to its color and metallic impurities, for frequent water drinking is essential to health. The quality of the supply has been passed on by experts and commended, and it would be well that frequent tests be made and the results published until the purification plant is completed. Where experts approve it is not for the general public to condemn, and it is, therefore, a matter for optimism that the state health authorities give their official approval to the much discussed Barbour scheme of purification. May it succeed in making the water look as pure and as wholesome as at present it looks to the contrary.

LETTERS TURN UP

Letter writing has been called a lost art time out of number, but if the letters that figure in occasional court trials are typical of modern letter-writing, it is just as well that what remains of the art should be lost also, and very speedily. When one sees the emanations that get into the press from great politicians, leaders in business and financial matters, one might well wonder if there is not a period in the life of all men when they are slightly unbalanced. Words fly but written documents remain, and he who would realize this must think twice before he would defile a pure white sheet of paper with thoughts that are puerile, nonsensical, or otherwise unworthy of an intelligent and normal being. Letters written in haste or thoughtlessly have a rather unfortunate knack of turning up at the wrong time. Those written to Madame Caillaux by her volatile husband are an excellent illustration of this truth.

ITCHING RASH ON FACE AND NECK

Face Seemed Thoroughly Poisoned. Would Burn and Itch. Very Painful. Caused Loss of Sleep. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Entirely Well in Two Weeks.

127 Dixwell Ave., New Haven, Conn.—"My face and neck began itching and broke out in a rash; I was advised by a friend to use Cuticura, which I bought, but in the spring it came on in an exaggerated form. By this time my face seemed thoroughly poisoned, even pure water caused it to burn and itch. I was very painful causing loss of sleep; it seemed worse at night. "I used several different soaps and creams but it grew very much worse. Finally my face grew decidedly worse and became greatly inflamed and painful. I then sent for a sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I washed the affected parts with warm water and Cuticura Soap and anointed lightly with the Cuticura Ointment. It stopped the severe itching and burning right away. So I purchased a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment and in two weeks' time I was entirely well." (Signed) Mrs. J. O. Jones, Feb. 26, 1914.

at the present which will reduce flesh without doing injury to those who take it. Judging by the number of advertisements on this subject and by the variety of alleged "cures," thousands of people must be deluded continually, and dishonest promoters must be reaping vast financial gain as a result. The government specialists say that the only sure and safe way to reduce fat is to diet rigidly and to take exercise, but they do not promise any results until after a long period. Probably the safest plan for most to follow is to forget their obesity, to laugh and grow fatter. That nobody loves a fat man has been long ago disproved and it is an olden popular belief that fat ladies are much esteemed—in Turkey.

REV. MR. CLAPP'S AUTO STRUCK ICE WAGON

Car Skidded on Wet Street and Occupants Fortunately Escaped Serious Injury—Mr. Clapp's Son Thrown Over the Horses

Rev. Raymond G. Clapp, pastor of the First Trinitarian Congregational church and his son, Allen, aged 4 years, both residing at 81 Porter street, had a very narrow escape from serious injury at 2 o'clock this morning, when the automobile in which they were riding crashed into an ice wagon of the Daniel Case Co. in Broadway near the corner of Clark street. Witnesses of the accident say it was a miracle that the boy was not killed for he was thrown from the automobile over the horses' heads and landed on the ground, while the other tramped the front of the automobile, breaking the wind shield to pieces and smashing the fenders. The hood of the car was also badly damaged.

The horses were soon unhitched and driven away from the scene of the accident, while Rev. Mr. Clapp and his son boarded an oncoming automobile and were removed in haste to St. John's hospital, where a thorough examination of the little fellow was made by the attending physician. It was found that he was suffering from a concussion about the head, while the father fortunately was not injured.

The damaged automobile was allowed to remain on the car tracks for some time and accordingly the car traffic on Broadway was delayed for a short time. The machine was later towed to a garage. Mr. Lockhart, who happened on the scene of the accident, informed the writer that the trip to campus pond would be held just the same and that all preparations for the week's commencement of the boys' brigade will be carried along. The boys will journey to the Pellham resort Monday morning.

On the opposite side of the street an ice wagon of the Daniel Case Co.

ARMOUR AVERTS PANIC

Chicago Man Rescued Wheat Market by Taking Over 8,000-000 Bushels From Traders

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—Armour's millions yesterday rescued the wheat trade from panic.

Instead of chaos resulting from a settlement day in the midst of a war market, with possibly scores of firms embarrassed and a virtual certainty that bankruptcies would ensue, the Chicago board of trade was enabled to maintain its record of never having closed.

Last night not a single failure had taken place. The chief reason was that 75 entangled firms and individuals on "change were freely given by Armour & Co. whatever aid the necessities of the situation required.

President George B. Marcy of the Armour Grain Company was the man who rose to the occasion. He quietly circulated word on the floor of the board, partly in person and partly through his lieutenants, that any member in trouble need only come to him. Before midnight Armour & Co. had taken over 8,000,000 bushels of open trades which, if not transferred, were critically in danger of not being settled in due contract time on this expiration of business hours at the end of the month.

Directly to the relief extended directly, Mrs. Marcy ordered the sale of 2,000,000 bushels of wheat in the open market and was thus largely instrumental in preventing Chicago prices from paralleling the wild upward sweep that in Liverpool today came about of a deep subsequent fall.

The Armour sales of wheat were supplemented by simultaneous disposal of 1,000,000 bushels of corn and an equal quantity of oats.

These sales were afterward covered by numerous gradual purchases whenever pit conditions would allow without affecting the course of prices.

Mr. Marcy last night said: "The Chicago board of trade today owed a duty to the country not to close. It was not a similar case to that of the stock exchange in New York. Millions of bushels of grain in transit had to be covered for the effect on the road and other interests had to be taken into account. Grains are commodities almost wholly unlike stocks and bonds."

Possibly a clear idea of the strain that reached the climax yesterday can be obtained from one vivid example. On a single trading one firm here of excellent standing was called on for $650,000 in margins—$400,000 at first and $250,000 on a second demand.

his pocket for $15. It was payable to Frank E. Parker, at the Union National bank of Lowell from the Lowell-Lawrence Express Co. (L. H. White, treasurer). Slovic gave the check the "once over" and then accepted it, giving the stranger $10 in return.

The Lawrence merchant began to get suspicious as soon as "Mr. Parker" left the store and he took the check to a nearby establishment where he inquired about its value. He was informed that it didn't look any too good. Slovic then went in pursuit of the stranger and overtook him at the corner of Kingston street. Upon being held up the man appeared to be somewhat nervous, and the effect on the merchant was that he should doubt his word and he offered to return the check, backing and money for the check. His argument was so convincing that Slovic apologized and returned to his store. Later, the Union bank was communicated with and the Lawrence man learned that he had been fooled as no such account existed.

HE PASSED BAD CHECKS

The Lawrence police are on the lookout for a check worker, believed to be a Lowell man, who swindled Louis Slovic, who conducts a shoe store at 174 South Broadway, Lawrence, out of $19 by working a trick that has many victims on its list.

A slick looking gentleman walked into Slovic's store one afternoon this week and asked to see his line of shoes. While displaying the shoes Slovic happened to glance at a fraternity pin worn by the stranger and immediately informed the latter that he (Slovic) was a member of the same order. This seemed to be good news to the purchaser and he decided that he needed a pair of cuffs, hippers, also. As the bill then amounted to $24, the stranger decided that he would have two boxes of blacking, making it an even $5.

The bundles were wrapped up whereupon the customer pulled a check from his pocket and handed it to Slovic.

MILITANTS ATTEMPTED TO BLOW UP CATHEDRAL

Women Disobeyed Order of Union and Placed a Quantity of Dynamite Beneath the Window of Ancient Cathedral at Lisbon

BELFAST, Ireland, Aug. 1.—Militant suffragettes today disobeyed the order issued by the Women's Social and Political Union requesting members to refrain from militant acts during the international crisis and made an attempt to destroy the ancient cathedral at Lisbon which contains a monument of Lieut. Dobbs who was killed during an engagement against Admiral John Paul Jones' ship. The wild women placed a quantity of dynamite beneath a window of the chancel. The thick wall resisted the explosion but a rare stained glass window was shattered and a large quantity of masonry damaged.

THE ALASKAN VOLCANO

Effect of Last Eruption Described by Spectators—Death to Animal and Vegetable Life

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 1.—Mt. Katmai, reported by Captain McMullin of the steamer Dirigo, to be throwing out great volumes of sulphurous laden smoke, is a peak 7600 feet high, situated relatively near the eastern end of the Alaska peninsula and of the Aleutian mountains. The seaman reports the ocean for a distance of 100 miles to be discolored by sulphur dust and pumice. The last eruption of the volcano, in June, 1912, as described in a statement by the National Geographic society at Washington, D. C., compiled from data collected by George C. Martin, the geologist who directed the society's Alaskan volcano researches following Mt. Katmai's outbreak, was one of the most violent of historic time. "All southern Alaska knew at once of Katmai's eruption on the morning of June 6, 1912," reads the society's statement. "The sound of the first mighty explosion carried down the coast as far as Juneau, 750 miles away, and was even heard across the Alaskan range at Dawson and Fairbanks, distance 650 and 550 miles, respectively. The column of steam and ash that rose several miles in the air was carried eastward by the wind and within a few hours had shed a shower of ashes all over the east end of the Alaska peninsula, the east half of Kodiak island and all of Afognak island. Intense darkness accompanied the fall and midlight blackness in the daytime extended 28 far east as the Kenai peninsula. Darkness lasted for 60 hours at Kodiak, 100 miles away. Dust fell as far away as Juneau, Ketchikan and the Yukon valley, 750, 900 and 600 miles. The fumes were reported from points as far remote as Vancouver island and Puget sound, 1500 miles away. Subsequent terrific explosions occurred at 3 and 11 p. m. of the same day.

"The effect of the eruption on what ever vegetation clothed the flanks of the volcano was annihilated. The position of the death line around the volcano came practically down to the sea, 15 miles from the crater. Marine life was affected to a larger degree than would perhaps be expected. Bears, rabbits, reindeer and other animals and birds were made blind. Dead geese, ducks, ptarmigan, snipe, hawks and many small birds were found dead at the mouth of the Kachik river. Man was indirectly affected by the eruption through the injury to other animal life and to vegetation. The eruption differs from almost all other known great eruptions in that the immediate damage to property was almost nothing, and that, as far as is known, it was not the direct and sole cause of the loss of a single human life. The sparse settlement of the district alone was responsible for this condition.

ST. PETER'S HOLY NAME

WILL HOLD AN IMPORTANT MEETING IN LOWER CHURCH TOMORROW EVENING

A special meeting of the Holy Name society of St. Peter's church will be held in the lower chapel Sunday evening, Aug. 2, for the purpose of formulating plans for the great diocesan parade which is to be held in Boston Oct. 4. President Bernard D. Ward is making special efforts to ensure a banner attendance at this meeting as there is a strong rivalry among the various branches in this city as to which should make the best appearance and have the greatest number of members in the parade. The diocesan plans will be announced tomorrow and the details of effective organization will also be made known. Officers of the respective sub-divisions will be selected in the near future.

Simple Home Remedy for Wrinkled Faces

Thousands are spending fortunes in frantic efforts to remove the signs of premature age from their faces. Such women willingly pay almost any amount of money for worthless wrinkle cures, of which there are many. If they only knew it, the most effective remedy imaginable is a simple, harmless face wash which can be made up at home in less than a minute. They have only to get an ounce of powdered saxofite and half a pint of witch hazel at the drug store and mix the two, apply this to the face as a refreshing lotion. The effect is almost magical. Even after the first treatment a marked improvement is noticed and the face has a snug, firm feeling that is most pleasing.

FOUND BODY OF WIFE
ANTHONY F. BRADLEY OF BRUNSWICK, ME. MAKES SAD DISCOVERY
BRUNSWICK, Me., Aug. 1.—When Anthony F. Bradley, a well-known farmer and a republican nominee for state representative, returned to his home at Brunswick yesterday noon and did not find his wife he supposed that she had gone berry picking and was not alarmed. In the afternoon, while raking hay, he saw an object across the pasture, and on investigating found the body of his wife, who had died suddenly of heart trouble.

Mrs. Bradley was born in Brunswick 67 years ago, daughter of David and Jane Stover. Besides her husband, she is survived by a son, Charles Bradley of Portland, and a sister, Mrs. Oron T. Desnoes of this town. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon.

BUILDING UP THE TEAM

Recent Purchase of Zieser and Swayne Shows That Owners Intend to be in Pennant Hunt

Although the local New England league club has no chance for the pennant this season the fans are beginning to realize that the Lowell management is making preparations for a top notch team next season.

The recent purchase of Zieser and Swayne goes to show that the local club is being built up with an eye to next season possibilities. Both of these men were bought outright and are now the property of the Lowell club owners.

In Zieser, King, Weaver and Lohman Lowell has the nucleus of a first-class pitching staff with Swayne as a possibility providing that he acquires control in the catching department. Burke will still be with us. In fact all that will be needed next spring to give this club the aspect of a pennant winner is an infielder or two and a little confidence.

Lowell Still in the Lead
Lawrence is still out in front and, in the opinion of the writer, it will take some pretty fine baseball to displace Louis Pieper's boys. Pieper really has a good ball club, especially on the offensive.

The down river team is never beaten until the last batter is retired and there you have the secret of a great many wins. Pieper is a bulldog, tenacity and he has instilled the never-give-up principles in his ball players. It is really a treat to watch

Jack Johnson will forfeit an additional bond of $15,000 if he does not appear in the Chicago courts next Friday. The big black has already lost $30,000 by his non-appearance. So it looks as though he wouldn't return for the amount at stake Friday. However, $15,000 is a big pot of money, even for the negro champion.

McGraw and Comiskey have finally decided not to take the proposed trip to South America next winter with their respective ball clubs. It was planned to put on the same sort of a schedule as made the world tour possible but Comiskey cannot see where the returns will cover the expenses. Comiskey is still thinking seriously of the proposition, it is said.

The Braves are only one game behind the 50-50 mark and the Boston fans are cheering for them to break into that class and then go on about even better than at present if that is possible. If the Braves should keep up their clip for the last two weeks, in which time they have won 11 and lost 2, they would lead the National league pennant. Although this is hardly considered a possibility they will undoubtedly creep up very close to the top.

Wallie Schang's younger brother, Bob, has been sold by the St. Joseph club of the Western league to the Pirates. Pittsburgh will not call him in, however, until the close of the Western league season. It is strange that Connie Mack slipped up on the youngster.

Ben Webster of Revere, acting for Manager Blonk, who is in New York at the present time, writes us that he is anxious to meet Mike Wrenn in order to arrange a swimming match between the local man and the Big Swede. If Wrenn will let the writer know at what time such a meeting would be convenient to him the Revere man will be on hand.

Swayne is the first genuine outfielder we have seen in the middle garden since Matthews departed—exchange. Matthews was a genuine outfielder. Paraphrasing the words of the poet, Swayne is very little ground. With Worcester he never left hold when Stewart pitches, and continues to be a hard worker in the field. He is hitting way under the 300 mark. To say that Swayne is a genuine outfielder and then to compare him with Matthews is to nullify the compliment intended.—Courier-Citizen.

Why didn't you say, brother, that you clipped this article from the Lowell Sun? We are never at all satisfied about anything we write. The last batting figures (official) computed give Matthews an average of .299. That isn't a very low figure, is it? According to the way we figure.

JAURES ASSASSINATED

Noted Socialist Leader Shot to Death in Paris Restaurant—Murderer Arrested

PARIS, Aug. 1.—Jean Leon Jaures, the noted socialist leader, was assassinated last night while dining in a small restaurant near the Bourse. The assassin was arrested, but refused to disclose his identity. Later he was identified as Raoul Villain, aged 29, and said to be the son of a clerk of the civil court at Reims.

The Minister of the Interior, Louis Malvy, on learning of the crime, left the meeting of the council and ordered precautions to be taken to prevent demonstrations.

M. Jaures was seated at a dinner table near an open window facing the rue Montmartre, chatting with several socialist deputies and the editors of L'Humanite. As though by prearrangement, the curtain covering the window was lightly brushed aside and a hand holding a revolver was thrust through.

Before M. Jaures could make a move, he received two bullets in the back of the head. Without uttering even an exclamation he fell forward and expired, with his head on the table.

The reports of the shots startled the diners and passersby and the assassin was seized. In his pocket was another loaded revolver. The police rescued him from the crowd, which shouted: "Assassin! Death to the assassin!"

The body of the noted deputy was placed in a city conveyance, which, surrounded by weeping comrades and friends, proceeded through the streets to his home, followed by a detachment of republican guards. There were shouts of "Vive Jaures!" by some in the crowd, and similar shouts and a demonstration in front of the office of L'Humanite and in the boulevards when the news became generally known.

It is reported that the assassin first telephoned to the restaurant, which was a favorite dining place of M. Jaures, to ascertain whether he was there.

M. Jaures had returned home after-day from Brussels, where he attended the international socialist conference to protest against war, and since his arrival had delivered an address with his usual eloquence on the subject. His campaign against hostilities is thought possibly to have had some connection with his murder.

An eye witness of the shooting says the assassin declared after he had fired: "I did it because Jaures fought the three last years (the Three Years' military law). He fought France."

The government last night took official notice of the crime by ordering a proclamation, signed by Premier Viviani, posted on the walls of Paris. It denounces the murder of M. Jaures and counsels the people not to give way to agitation and throw the city into disorder.

Noted Orator

Jean Leon Jaures, socialist leader and generally regarded as the greatest orator France has produced in modern times, was born Sept. 3, 1859, at Castres, Tarn, France.

His father was a man of fine education and superior culture and his uncle was a famous French admiral, who commanded as a general in the French army in the war with Prussia in 1870. His brother is today captain in the French navy. Jean Leon had a liberal education in Paris and took his degree as associate in philosophy in 1881.

He taught philosophy for two years at the Lyceum of Aichi, in his native province and lectured at the University of Toulouse.

As a republican he was elected to the chamber of deputies in 1885 from Tarn. Failing of reelection in 1889, he resumed teaching at the University in Toulouse.

One of his dreams, which he did not live to see realized, was the confederation of the petroleum refining industry of France. It is curious that Jaures should have died on what appears to be the eve of war between his own country and Germany, for it has been one of his pet theories that to bring about universal peace France and Germany must above all other countries, cooperate.

M. Jaures is survived by his wife, a daughter, who is married, and a son, still in the university. Soon after the war was born a great hue and cry was raised by fans of the followers of Jaures because he had the wife baptized, and with water from the river Jordan. Jaures silenced his critics with the reply that something must be allowed to his wife's susceptibilities.

In 1892, when the miners of Carmaux went out on strike on account of the discharge of a socialist workman, M. Jaures became conspicuous in their defense and the following year he was reelected to the chamber of deputies as a socialist. In 1898 he was defeated and he remained outside the chamber for the next four years, but was a strong force in politics as a leader of the socialists.

As editor of a paper, the Petite Republique, he was one of the most fiery defenders of Capt. Dreyfus when the latter succeeded in vindicating his reputation. In 1902 he returned to the chamber of deputies, became vice president of the chamber, and in 1904 he founded the paper called L'Humanite.

During the last 10 or 12 years his radical speeches in connection with strikes, in denunciation of militarism and in advocacy of world peace and arbitration have made him known throughout the civilized world. In 1904 he fought a bloodless duel with Paul Bourdele, a brother journalist, who had accused Jaures of being a detractor of Joan of Arc.

He secured a general reduction of working hours for working men and women, pensions for workers over 65, and by the establishment of government employment offices, practically abolished private employment agencies. He was credited more than any other man with driving the religious orders from France a few years ago.

Many of the socialists in France believed resolution to be the only means of bringing about the regime they desire, but Jaures persistently held that it can better be done piecemeal, by having the government acquire from time to time some new natural resource of great industry of the nation, and he worked along that line continually.

When Jaures visited Berlin nine years ago the German government forbade him to speak in public for fear of the influence he might have on the socialists there.

The speech, published later in Jaures' newspaper L'Humanite, was a powerful

—$7 a Week Gambler in Court

Today's police court session was brief, but quite spicy, while it lasted, and several unfortunate offenders felt the grinding of the stern wheels of justice.

Buxom Katrina Tryack sat on her own back door steps a few nights ago and expounded upon the lack of economy employed by the father of a much moustached young man who goes by the name of Mike Email. Mike's rear name was badly massacred when the police court officials endeavored to wrap their respective tongues around the same. However, to get on with the story—

Katrina was sitting on her door step, as we have mentioned, and made several caustic remarks about the manner in which Michael's male parent abused his week's wages. Just to show Continued on page four

GOVERNOR'S DAY WAS

CELEBRATED IN GRAND STYLE—
DAY USHERED IN BY BELL
RINGING

Today is governor's day at the celebration of the 200th anniversary of the incorporation of the town of Littleton and the day was ushered in by the ringing of bells in the early morning and the announcing of the day's program by the town crier. Among the other features of the observance were the automobile parade about the main streets of the town and exercises on the common during which an historical address was given by Judge George A. Sanderson of the superior court. Joseph A. Harwood presided.

At noon a banquet was served after which there was speaking by several statesmen and old residents of the town. Senator Edward Fisher was one of the guests of honor. Tonight dancing will be enjoyed and there is no doubt but today will long be remembered as one of the greatest in the history of the town.

Continues Efforts to Avert Big War

PARIS, Aug. 1.—An official decree orders a general mobilization of the French army beginning tomorrow.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—The Central News says the British foreign office this evening received an unofficial message to the effect that German mobilization had been ordered.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—A Daily News despatch from Berlin, timed at 2 a. m. this morning, says that Germany has addressed an ultimatum to Russia demanding that mobilization shall be stopped within 12 hours. A question has also been addressed to France, the despatch says, in regard to her attitude in certain contingencies.

The Daily Citizen's Paris correspondent reports that a general mobilization has been ordered.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—King George has sent an urgent message to the Russian emperor in an effort to avert war. When the news of King George's intervention with the Russian emperor was conveyed to the German embassy here it elicited the remark that it "tended to revive hope."

Ultimatums were sent today by Germany to France and Russia. Russia was ordered by Emperor William to stop mobilizing within 12 hours, expiring by noon; while France was given 18 hours to declare her attitude in certain contingencies.

Italy probably will remain neutral as she regards the campaign of her allies, Germany and Austria, as an aggression war, in which case she is not called to intervene.

King George made a dual effort today to maintain peace by telegraphing to Emperor Nicholas of Russia. The German ambassador was reported to have left St. Petersburg.

With nightfall in Europe came a sudden cessation of telegraphic communication direct from the countries concerned in the quarrel which appears to have reached the verge of a general war.

In London a strict censorship over news despatches telling of military movements of all kinds has been instituted.

No definite information as to whether German and French mobilization has started has been permitted to come through, and telephonic communication has been cut between Germany and France and between the continent and England to prevent leakage of this information.

The whereabouts of the British and German fleets are likewise a mystery to all except the governments concerned.

Because of an alleged hitch in the resolution to borrow $225,000 for the erection and maintenance of a filtration plant at the boulevard the work may be delayed for a week or ten days or perhaps two weeks. The resolution was passed by the city council about ten days ago and, believing that the money would be available within a week after the resolution became operative, Commissioner Carmichael expected to break ground for the new plant the latter part of next week. The bankers, the men who loan the money, object to the 30-year term as Continued to page seven

Conner Handicap Feature of Get-away Card at Grand Circuit Meeting Yesterday

DETROIT, Aug. 1.—The Conner handicap was the feature of the get-away card at the Grand Circuit meeting here yesterday. There were little paths for the starters, the handicapping being by distance. The paths were marked around the first turn, each horse having to keep in his own runway.

Robert Milrod, slowest by record, had the pole, with Bon Zolock second, Anvil third, and Eddie Archdale fourth. Engineers had figured out that the difference in the distance for about three-eighths of a mile would equalize the speed of the horses.

In the first heat, Robert Milrod had a big lead when they reached the backstretch, with Bon Zolock second and Anvil coming fast. Bon Zolock broke in the last turn and Anvil had it on Robert Milrod and in the stretch caught and beat the gelding easily in 2:05 1-2.

In the second heat Bon Zolock broke and Anvil shifted to a pace, Geers pulling him off his feet. Robert Milrod had it all to himself, winning in a job in 2:11.

Bon Zolock took the lead on the back stretch when Robert Milrod made a break in the third heat. Geers raved Anvil well and when inside of the distance, he caught Bon Zolock and beat him half a length in 2:09 1-2. Robert Milrod being right there at the end.

Fay Richmond Favorite
The 2:07 pace proved the best race of the card. Fay Richmond was favorite at $50. Alcy E. and Baron Alcyone $25 each, Marietta $20 and the field $25.

Little Bernice made the pace to the half, where she broke and John D. took the lead. Next time John D. had to pace in 2:04 1-2 to beat Fay Richmond by a neck. Fay beat John handily in the last part of the mile and the latter was distanced in the fourth, Marietta having led to the last eighth, where Fay Richmond went by her.

The fifth heat was a battle between the pair, Murphy hustling Marietta along in the last part and carrying the gray to a break.

With only ten lengths in the sixth heat, Fay Richmond made the pace opening up a big gap on the last turn. Marietta came to him on the stretch, but Murphy had to go to the whip to win by inches.

Marietta made the pace in the seventh heat, breaking at the distance in condition. Chester, Lowell is in danger of losing one of her best athletes.

Edward Preston of the Field Lumbering Co. is of the opinion that the stunt pulled off by Joe Knowlton last season was very easy. We don't know, but probably Ed has had experience.

George Winters of the Merrimack mills who received a severe laceration to the middle finger of his left hand recently is back at his work, although the injured member is causing him considerable pain.

Patrick Farrell, foreman of the blank room of the Tremont & Suffolk mill still retains his old affection for sports of any kind. Mr. Farrell was one of the hardest workers on the sport committee for the outing.

Charles Farrell, chairman of the blank room of the Tremont & Suffolk mill still retains his old affection for sports of any kind. Mr. Farrell was one of the hardest workers on the sport committee for the outing.

John Leary of the Merrimack mills entertained a large gathering of friends from Manchester at his residence last evening. The evening was enjoyed by a musical entertainment after which refreshments were served.

Jim O'Day, the elongated second baseman of the South Ends, is playing the game of his career this season. Jim is no relation to the famous Hank. He is employed at the Lowell Electric Light Corporation, when he is not playing ball.

Herbert Bennett, George Wesson, Richard Ryan and David Longley, employees of the American Hide & Leather Co. will start late tonight on a fishing excursion to Crystal Lake. They will spend the night at their beloved pond and will return tomorrow morning.

Millmen's Union Held Meeting
The members of Millmen's union held a largely attended and enthusiastic meeting in the Carpenters' hall in the Rauce building last evening. Considerable business of importance was transacted and four new members were admitted. Two applications for membership were also received and they will be acted upon at the next regular meeting. Speeches on the part of the union were made by many of the members. The secretary's report showed the union to be in a flourishing financial condition.

GREAT ALL AROUND ATHLETE HE WILL NOT RUN FOR CONGRESS

Mike Wrenn is One of Best Athletes Ever Developed Here

Has a Good Track and Field Record as Well as Swimming Title

Michael Wrenn, the man who this summer made the first Nashua to Lowell swim, is one of the greatest all-around athletes ever produced in this city and today stands out as one of the finest figures in local athletics.

Wrenn's swimming ability is well known. He is a very good sprint swimmer as well as being the greatest fresh water swimmer in this city or in this vicinity. He has proven this fact on many occasions.

His athletic performances, however, are not confined to the water by any means. On the track and field Wrenn also excels. He has won many trophies in most every event including the sprint and field events.

As a shotputter Mike has shown his greatest aptitude and his handling of the iron and lead pellets is the best in the city. Without being pushed Wrenn has heaved the 12-pound ball well over 45 feet on several occasions.

For a big man, Wrenn weighs over 130 pounds, he is a highly fast sprinter and has only been beaten by the city's fastest men after the most spirited kind of a brush. Wrenn has been credited with doing the 100 yards in 10 4-5 seconds, a truly remarkable performance for a man of his weight.

BOSTON, Aug. 1.—Miss Claudia Goulet, a young actress, whose home is at 21 Stanford street, West End, was killed at 2 o'clock this morning in an automobile accident in New York city.

Her sister, Miss Jessie Goulet, and their aunt, Mrs. Flora Prevost, also actresses, were both so seriously injured that it is feared they will die.

The victims of the accident left this city on Tuesday on the 5 p. m. train for New York city to join a show company for the winter season.

Late yesterday Mrs. Josephine Goulet of 21 Stanford street, this city, the mother of the Goulet girls, received a postal card from them, which was as follows: "Dear Mamma—We are at the Grand. Could not get in at the Bathol, so send any of our mail and things here. Lovingly, Jessie."

This morning she learned of the death of her daughter Claudia and the injury to Miss Jessie and Mrs. Prevost when a reporter called at the home. The members of the grief stricken family were prostrated this morning by the shock of the terrible news.

As near as the details of the accident could be obtained this morning the Boston women were members of a party which went out early today in the new $3000 automobile owned by Robert McLaughlin of New York City.

The party was driving along Pelham park road at 2 o'clock this morning, when it was noticed that a fire was burning under the automobile. Nathaniel Burns, the chauffeur, made an attempt to reach a garage and he speeded up his car. The wind fanned the flames and the gasolene tank under the front seat exploded.

Miss Claudia Goulet and Chauffeur Burns, who were on the front seat, were thrown 30 feet by the force of the explosion. Miss Goulet struck her head on a ditch beside the roadway. She probably died instantly.

Chauffeur Burns also was very severely injured and it is feared he also will die from his wounds. He has been unconscious since the accident.

Miss Jessie Goulet and Mrs. Flora Prevost were also terribly injured and it is thought cannot recover. Both remained unconscious at the hospital for hours and it is feared they have internal injuries.

Lived in Collinsville
The Goulets are a family of stage-folk and came originally from Collinsville, Mass., which is the home now of Mrs. Flora Prevost. Mrs. Prevost is the wife of Mr. Prevost of Rice & Provost.

Gilbert Goulet, father of the dead girl, and his wife, Mrs. Josephine Goulet, were both performers, but retired from the stage some years ago. The family came from Collinsville, Mass., to Boston, some 10 years ago. They had lived in Collinsville for a score of years. There are several children in the family and all are now or have at a time been connected with the stage.

Miss Claudia, who was killed, was 27 years old and was well known as a singer and dancer. She also played with some well-known companies. Her sister, Miss Jessie, is 21, and has been on the stage since she was a child. A brother, Archie Goulet, who is married and makes his home in Philadelphia, is a great ground and timber and is a favorite in vaudeville. Another brother, Dr. Frederick Goulet, is married and lives in Dwight street, this city, and has offices at 110 Tremont street, and another, Oscar Goulet, lives at home with his parents and is employed as cashier by an automobile tire company on Boylston street.

Another brother, Mr. David Hanes, is the wife of Com-

Humphrey O'Sullivan Opposed to Contest for the Nomination

He Says There is a Chance to Win—Predicts Business Boom

When seen by a Sun representative last evening, Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan stated that he would not enter the congressional contest this year.

"I see," he said, "that J. Joseph O'Connor, Esq., has entered the field and as I do not care to go into a contest for the nomination, you can state that I am not in the fight."

"Had not early candidate appeared, I would certainly have gone into the congressional fight to win, for I believe there is an opportunity to elect a democrat. For this reason I hope Mr. O'Connor will lead his party to victory."

Turning to the subject of railroads and the recent developments in the New York, New Haven & Hartford, Mr. O'Sullivan said: "It appears now that when I denounced the merger with the Boston & Maine in paid advertisements and otherwise, I was right, but few were willing to believe what

HUMPHREY O'SULLIVAN

I said at that time. I never could see any legal justification for that merger and I am pleased now to know that on that point my judgment has been vindicated.

"I may be similarly discredited when I say that a great business boom is ahead of us as a result of the changed conditions brought about by the new tariff law and the new currency system. Eventually in spite of all republican opposition there will be one of the greatest business booms we have witnessed for 25 years."

IDEAL OUTING WEATHER

Hundreds Left Lowell This Morning for Different Points on Pleasure Bent

Neither the rumors of war, the Irish crisis, the Mexican mixup nor the closing of the stock markets had any depressing effect on the hundreds of Lowell people who gave up the opening day of the hot month of August for the pleasures of an outing and those who had to remain at home and work envied the merry-makers that glided out of Merrimack square early this morning on the electric, en route to the seashore or the country. The day was ideal and hence the several outings were well attended. Among the local outings were the following:

Silesia Worsted Co.
Two hundred young people, employees of the Silesia Worsted Co. of North Chelmsford, gathered in Merrimack square this morning and boarded special cars for Revere beach for their annual outing. Arriving at the beach, a shore dinner was partaken of and the afternoon was spent in visiting the many attractions of Wonderland. The return will be made late tonight.

Swedish Congregational Church
At 1:30 o'clock this afternoon about 100 members of the Swedish Congregational church left the corner of Bowden and Gorham streets in a special electric car for Mountain Rock where they held their annual outing. The crowd was a merry one and the trip to the resort was most pleasant. Outdoor sports were held and in the course of the afternoon refreshments were served. The affair was in the hands of a competent committee headed by the pastor, Rev. John Elmer.

Waterhead Mills
On account of the annual outing of the employees of the Waterhead mill in Lawrence street being held today, the plant closed last night, not to reopen again until Monday morning. At 7:45 o'clock this morning two special electric cars were boarded, in Lawrence street opposite the mill, and the excursionists were conveyed to Revere beach where upon their arrival they all enjoyed a fine shore dinner. The afternoon was devoted to bathing and sight-seeing, while a group of men enjoyed a baseball game and other sports. The weather was ideal for such an occasion and the trip was greatly enjoyed by all. The affair was conducted by the superintendent, A. M. Armstrong.

Plumbers' Outing
It can safely be stated that every plumbing establishment in the city was represented in the large crowd that gathered in the square this morning to take part in the annual excursion to Bass Point. Mr. Dennis Pondogast and Mr. Stephen Garrity, who had charge of the arrangements, were on hand bright and early dealing out tickets and they were eagerly snapped up. Upon the arrival of the party at this popular resort a dinner was served. Sports were the main attraction in the afternoon, and many of the boys went prepared for they carried bats, gloves,

CAN'T ENLIST TROOPS TO SUPREME COURT BENCH

UNITED STATES MUST ENFORCE LAW OF NEUTRALITY IN EUROPEAN WAR

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Strenuous efforts being made by Austria and Serbia to recall from the United States for military service the many thousands of their citizens who are employed in American factories has attracted official attention and the question has been raised whether such activities are being carried beyond the limits prescribed by the neutrality laws.

Advertisements have appeared in many American papers calling upon the reservists and other Austrians and Serbians eligible for military duty to return to their fatherland for service, and offering money for their transportation.

The neutrality laws not only forbid the departure of armed expeditions from the United States directed against a friendly nation, but enlistments are specifically prohibited. The individual foreigner is left free to make his way as an individual out of the country, but extension to him of aid in the shape of passage money and expenses and any attempt to direct his movements to certain rendezvous in a foreign country is believed by some officials here to be of questionable legality and is in violation of the law.

It was recalled last night that in 1856, during the Crimean war, Secretary Marcy expelled from the United States British Minister Crampton because he was concerned in the enlistment of recruits within the United States for service in the British army. These recruits were directed through consuls at New York, Philadelphia and Cincinnati to Halifax, where the British government had opened a recruiting station and where technical enlistments were made.

GOOD GIRL WANTED FOR GENERAL HOUSEWORK. Call at 428 Westford st., cor. Wilder.

ATTY. GEN. McREYNOLDS SELECTED TO SUCCEED THE LATE JUSTICE LUTTON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Indications that Atty. Gen. James Clarke McReynolds had been definitely selected to succeed the late Justice Lutton on the bench of the supreme court of the United States became a certainty yesterday, when a member of the cabinet commenced to sound the senate on the probability of McReynolds' confirmation without great opposition. The cabinet officer in question is regarded as the practical politician of the administration and one senator proached halls from McReynolds' home state.

At the same time it became known that T. W. Gregory, the attorney general's right-hand man in the New Haven investigation and proceedings, has been selected for attorney general, though it is understood he does not want the place.

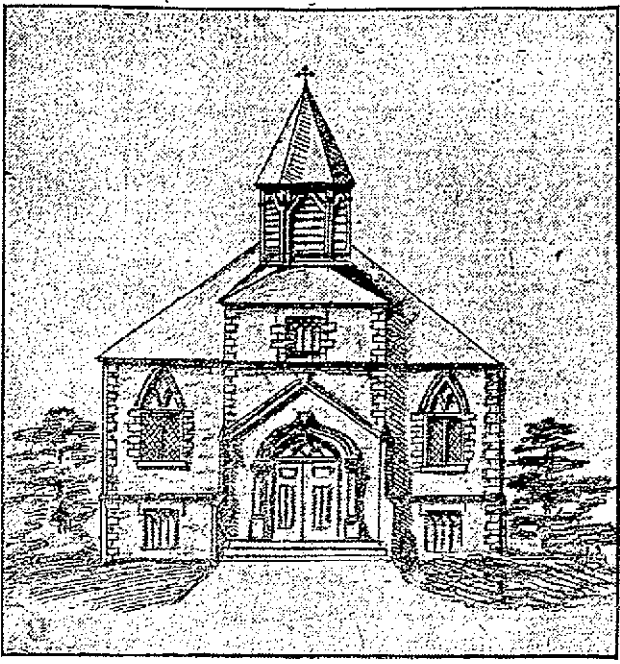

In sounding the senate, it is understood, the senate of the administration ascertained that Senators Hitchcock and Brewster were opposed to McReynolds, and would combat his confirmation. Senators Vandeman and Reed had been hostile to a certain point, but now are said to be willing to vote to confirm him. The opposition of Brewster and Hitchcock is based on McReynolds' attitude in the quizzing of former President Mellen by the interstate-commerce commission, and also they are said to take strong exception to other of his utterances and actions.

Gregory is an old friend of Postmaster Gen. Burleson, whose campaign he has managed in Texas, and also is an old friend of McReynolds, with whom it is said, he roomed while at college.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. McQuade and son of Freehold, N. J., are spending their vacation at Mr. McQuade's former home, 41 Lyon street. Before returning to New Jersey the party will make a visit to Ballardvale.

BUILDINGS AND REALTY

FRONT VIEW OF PROPOSED ARMENIAN ORTHODOX CHURCH

New Church Soon to be Erected on Lawrence Street—Considerable Building Activity

Lowell is soon to count another church as the members of the local Armenian colony have started work on the foundation of their new temple which will be erected on the Lawrence street in Lawrence st., which was purchased by the community. The proposed building will cost between $7000 and $8000, and it is believed it will be ready for service before the snow flies.

The building is being erected with public subscriptions, the members of the colony alone donating the sum of $3000. A committee known as the building committee and composed of seven members has been appointed with Marcus D. Manuelli as secretary, and it is believed within a few months the necessary amount will have been raised.

The work of digging for the foundation is being done by volunteers who work during the evening and the job is being rushed along, there being at times over 20 men at work. The new building will be of brick and the dimensions will be about 50 by 25 feet. It will be one story in height with basement to be used as a vestry and the interior of the temple will be handsomely decorated. The new parish will be known as St. Gregory's and as soon as the church is completed a resident clergyman will come to Lowell. It is figured that there are about 500 Armenians in Lowell. Bids for the new structure will be asked for as soon as the plans are accepted by the superintendent of public buildings and the contract will be awarded soon after.

Armenians and members of other building crafts are beginning to realize that business in the building line in Lowell is not so dull after all, for according to some of the contractors it is very difficult to find unemployed men in this particular line of work in Lowell. New buildings are being constructed and considerable changes in dwelling houses are being made. There is no big job, such as mill construction going on but every little helps and there is so much of the small work in progress that no one can complain.

Dr. Omer G. Lavalles has had his stable in the rear of his house in Merrimack street torn down and in its stead he will have a three-story dwelling house erected. The building will contain three tenements of six rooms each with pantry and bath and will be of the latest finish.

Jesse A. Viller is building an additional story to his home at 63 Coral street, which will be utilized as a chamber.

James W. Johnson has a number of men at work on repairing the fire damages at his property, 135 Jewett street. The work consists of patching the roof, new window frames and interior alterations.

The property of Isaac Bernstein, numbered 605-69 Market street, is undergoing considerable changes. The store front is being changed and an addition of a room is being added. The structure on the fourth story. General repairs will also be made in the interior of the building.

The house of Mr. Butterfield, formerly located in Totman street, and which has been moved into Johnson street, is now the property of William A. Miller who is raising the roof about seven feet to give square rooms on the second floor. An addition will be constructed and interior alterations made.

Annie Kelis has made plans for considerable changes to her property at 173-175 East Merrimack street. The roof of the building will be squared and the structure will be three stories instead of two and one-half. A large piazza will be constructed in the rear and two bay windows on the front of the building will be built. The cornice will be of galvanized iron and the same material will be used on the covering of the bay windows. Two bath rooms will be fitted up and the approximate cost of the work will be $1000.

Israel Maunis has started work on the erection of a stable and carriage shed in the rear of his home, 123 Railroad street. The stable will be 14 by 21 feet, while the shed will be 13 by 21 feet. The cost of both structures will be $300.

Ezra A. Jones has a gang of men at work on the erection of a dwelling house at 22 Rose avenue. The building will be two stories in height and will contain seven rooms with pantry and bath. The dimensions will be 28 by 28 feet and a steam heating system will be installed. The cost of the building will be about $1500.

A lot of work is being done at the building of Warren H. Blaisdell, 19 Lamb street. The building is being fitted up with a steam heating system and a new bay window is being put in. The window in the bath room will be changed and general repairs will be made throughout the house.

A seven-room house with pantry and bath is being erected for Ida F. Farrington at 124 Warwick street. A steam heating system will be installed and the cost of the building will be about $2000.

The two and a half story building of H. Duarte at 187 Charles street will soon become a three-story affair. Men are now at work on squaring the pitched roof, and when the work is completed the building will contain three five-room tenements. A large piazza will be built in the rear with open stairway.

Joshua Butler is repairing the fire damages at his property numbered 135 Stevens street, this consisting of rebuilding the roof and interior alterations.

A building owned by the estate of Isabella Griffin and located at 227 Lincoln street, is being changed over from a pitch to a square roof in order to provide square rooms on the second story. A new bath will also be installed on the second floor.

John Jordan Hartford has men at work on remodeling his building at 258 East Merrimack street. Extensive changes are being made in the interior of the house and two new bath rooms will be installed.

Charles Horton and Charles M. Bixby are building a garage between 27 and 35 Rutland street. The building will be of wood with a concrete foundation and the dimensions will be 24 by 26 feet.

The storage shed of Samuel Rostler in the rear of 41 Quince street will be boarded up on the sides, the old roof will be removed and in its place a flat roof will be constructed.

The residence of Albert S. Howard at 757 Andover street will undergo several changes the work to be started next week. The kitchen will be enlarged and a chamber and bath will be added on the second story. Several other interior changes will be made and a new bath room will be installed on the third floor, the entire job to cost about $200.

Charles H. McIntyre has made plans for the repair of fire damages at his building numbered 179 East Merrimack street. A new steel ceiling will be put in and a new door with plate glass will be added. The floor and partitions will also be repaired.

AMBASSADORS AT POSTS

SEC. BRYAN ORDERS PROMPT REPORTS IF AMERICANS ARE KILLED OR INJURED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—In order to keep in close touch with the war developments in Europe and to have prompt information about Americans living or traveling in the affected countries, all American ambassadors and ministers abroad are to be kept closely at their posts.

Secretary Bryan yesterday called the American diplomats in the country which may be involved, instructing them to report promptly to the State Department any Americans killed, injured or distressed.

Ambassador Page is now in England and Ambassador Gerard is in Germany. The retiring ambassador to France, Myron T. Herrick, is to be asked to remain in Paris until his successor, ex-Representative Shreve, arrives.

Ambassador Page, at Rome, who had planned to leave for the United States shortly, is to be asked to stay at his post. The ambassador to Spain, Jos. Willard, who plans to leave for Madrid next Tuesday, was at the White House yesterday inquiring about the situation.

The new ambassador to Russia, Mr. Morry, plans to leave for St. Petersburg as soon as he can obtain passage.

The war department has concluded that there is existing a force of military attaches in the European embassies and legations for the present, at least, to gather information of military value during the war. These officers are already on the ground, speak the language of the country in which they are accredited and are well acquainted with the officials to whom they must look for information.

Therefore, it is the intention of the department to refrain for the present from despatching special observers, although about half of the officers of the army have applied for such detail.

DEMONSTRATION IN MEDIATION PROPOSALS TO HAVE BEEN TAKEN TODAY

BRUSSELS, Aug. 1.—An official communication published today in the North German Gazette states that the Russian ambassador of July 23 telegraphed to Emperor William, urgently requesting him to help in averting the misfortune of a European war and to try to restrain the Austro-Hungarian from going to war.

Emperor William replied that he would willingly take up the task of mediator and accordingly diplomatic action was initiated in Vienna.

While this was in progress the news that Russia was mobilizing arrived at Berlin and Emperor William telegraphed to the emperor of Russia that his role as mediator was by this endangered if not made impossible.

The communication adds that a decision was to have been taken in Vienna today in regard to the mediation proposals, in which Great Britain had joined Germany but that, meanwhile, Russia had ordered the full mobilization of her forces. Upon this Emperor William addressed a last telegram to Emperor Nicholas emphatically declaring that his own responsibility for the safety of the German empire had forced him to take defensive measures.

GENERAL STRIKE THREAT

INTERNATIONAL SOCIALIST CONGRESS WILL MEET IN PARIS AUG. 5TH

PARIS, Aug. 1.—An international general strike of the mining and transportation industries all over Europe may be ordered by the international socialist congress in case of an all-European war.

The congress, which was originally planned for Aug. 23 in Vienna, has been changed to this city, on Aug. 5. The change is due to the determination of the international socialist organization, which numbers 12,500,000 members, to avert the impending conflagration of all Europe over the Austria-Serbia war.

Two years ago, when France and Germany were on the brink of war over Morocco, it was the socialists of Germany who frightened the two governments into a peace agreement by their huge anti-war demonstrations all over Germany and France. At one demonstration alone in Berlin 100,000 pledged themselves against war.

It is the general conviction among the socialists gathering here that the present international conflict, brought on by the monarchial heads of Europe, will be averted by the masses if they refuse to mine coal or transport arms, ammunition, troops or food for the armies engaged.

The calling of this vast international strike will probably be the first and most important resolution to be acted on by the congress. The sentiment among the delegates is overwhelming for a general strike. The strike question was discussed at the last international socialist congress four years ago, and a committee was appointed to draw up resolutions for the present congress to act upon.

It is the report and the resolutions of this committee which will embody the motion for an international general strike. If the resolution is passed, miners in every nation will throw down their picks and transport workers will refuse to move any of the machinery of war.

Albert Hillebrand, lawyer, of New York, one of the leading socialists in this country and secretary to the international socialist bureau, said yesterday:

"The congress would undoubtedly take a strong stand on the embroiling all Europe in war. It is probable that the action will take the form of a general strike of the industries connected with the conduct of war—mining, manufacture of arms and ammunition and their transportation.

"There is a strong sentiment on the part of the powerfully organized socialists and trade unionists all over Europe against war. In the present instance there is nothing to fire the imagination, and a campaign such as the socialists have launched will undoubtedly have its effect."

RESOLUTE AND VANITIE

SECOND RUN OF CRUISE FROM PORT JEFFERSON, N. Y., TO NEW LONDON

PORT JEFFERSON, N. Y., Aug. 1.—Placid weather still prevailed in Long Island sound when the New York Yacht club fleet and the Resolute and Vanitie made sail today for the second run of the cruise to New London.

The fleet was under way early for the racing run was 53 miles from the start under the Smithtown bluffs to the finish at Sarah's ledge buoy at the entrance of the Thames. The cup yachts were again sent off in the lead followed by little 30 footers and then by classes of increasing size until the big schooner Iroquois brought up the rear.

The house also will deal with a measure for the issue of five franc notes.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—No action has been taken by this government on the proposal for Ambassador Herrick to represent Germany in France but officials expect that such duties will devolve upon American diplomats generally in Europe and will be assumed by them.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Official news was received at the Austro-Hungarian consulate here today that the reservists had been called for general mobilization. Two hundred thousand Austrians and Hungarians. It was said at the consulate would therefore be called upon to return home from this country and join the colors. An important meeting of the members of St. Joseph's college alumni was held last night at the college hall in Meridian street for the purpose of completing arrangements for the annual reunion, which will be held on Thursday, Aug. 13. The meeting was largely attended and President Wilfred P. Caruso, Jr., occupied the chair. As usual the nomination brought forth a lively contest with the exception of the position of president, treasurer, secretary and assistant secretary. Those nominated were as follows: John B. Richard, president; Arthur Smard and Lucien F. L. Turcotte, vice presidents; Edmund N. Foley, treasurer; Arthur Groulx, secretary; George E. # IN POLICE COURT

KATRINA THAT WHATSOEVER HIS FATHER DID WAS ALL RIGHT OR THAT SHE SHOULD BE SO FREE OR THAT HE WAS A REAL FIGHTER OR SOME SUCH REASON, MIKE PUNCHED KATRINA RIGHT IN THE EYE. IF MEMORY SERVES US CORRECTLY IT WAS THE LEFT EYE.

Katrina that whatsoever his father did was all right or that she should be so free or that he was a real fighter or some such reason, Mike punched Katrina right in the eye. If memory serves us correctly it was the left eye.

Judge Pickman had an excellent opportunity to see the discolored optic, for Katrina thrust it close to his visage. Then lawyer Daniel J. Donahue made a few brief remarks relative to the protection of mild-eyed maidens and lawyer Alexander Groulx was enlisted. The man is married and has one child. At the conclusion of the evidence the court awarded Sheriff Ewelth both defendants. Groulx will stop at the Thorndike street establishment for 60 days while Juliette will linger for any half that period. The latter went so copiously and with such vehemence that she was taken below decks before the court took up the next move toward purifying our city.

$7 a Week Gambler

Theodosios Boutsikaris is a gambler. Theo said so himself and Theo ought to know. He was before the court this morning for neglecting to provide support for his wife and infant. The charge was contested.

Theo received $7 a week when he works. Then, with his bankroll from the mill which employs him, he gambles. Of course if Theo loses, how can the court expect him to pay a trivial thing like board and rent for his wife and child? That is certainly a fair requirement of a gambler. But if he wins he takes care of his family. But he seldom wins. However, Theo neither wins nor loses for the next three months unless he loses the war. At the house of correction into a life game. His wife will receive $3 a week from the state while her husband is taking his vacation.

Other Police Court Cases

Alexander McKenzie and his wife, Bridget, provided a sad spectacle this morning in police court. The husband was charged by his wife with non-support. Both are very old and feeble and all they could do to hobble around the courtroom. It was plainly evident that the old man could not earn enough to support his wife and preparations were made whereby they will both be given a home. Years of grateful bowing then for the family circle of the latter's maintenance. Murphy was awarded a trip to Cambridge at the county's expense with the house of correction as his destination. Two months was the verdict.

Victor Boivert and Georgina Normand were given a severe lecture by the court for a statutory offense and also a $15 fine. Joseph A. Ferron, another non-support defendant, agreed to pay $4 a week toward his family's support and furnished a bond in token of good faith. Alexander Kennedy was the only drunken offender before the court and Alex was given a week's time in which to collect his $6 fine.

INDICATIONS THAT NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE WILL BE CLOSED INDEFINITELY

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The New York stock exchange, closed yesterday for an indefinite period, remained closed today with indications that its doors would not open until such time as the European situation would show marked improvement.

There will be no unheralded opening of the exchange, according to one of its officials, as every member will be given at least 12 hours' notice in advance of the opening. This official added that it was his opinion that the exchange would remain closed for some little time.

KAISER SAYS PEACE COULD BE MAINTAINED IF RUSSIA WOULD CEASE ACTIVITIES

BERLIN, Aug. 1.—The North German Gazette, the official organ of the government, says that after the Russian emperor had given the order for the mobilization of the entire Russian army and fleet Emperor William sent a final telegram to Emperor Nicholas in which he made it clear that his responsibility for the security of the German empire compelled him to adopt defensive measures.

The German emperor continued that he had gone to the utmost limit possible in his efforts to preserve the world's peace and that the responsibility for the calamity threatening the world did not rest on him. He declared that he had always been faithful to his friendship for the Russian emperor and the Russian people and that the peace of Europe could still be maintained if Russia would cease to threaten Germany and Austria-Hungary.

NATIONAL PENNY BANK IN LONDON WAS ORDERED CLOSED

TODAY

LONDON, Aug. 1.—The National Penny bank, an institution with many branches whose small deposits are received, was closed today.

The directors feel compelled in the interest of depositors to suspend business for a time.

BIG LINERS RECALLED BY WIRELESS AS RESULT OF EUROPEAN SITUATION

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The North German line steamers Frederick Der Grosse which sailed from Baltimore on July 29 and Neckar, which sailed from Galveston the same day, were recalled today by wireless. The lines also instructed the Wilhelm to leave Morehead where she is now docking to go to Boston and remain there.

The Hamburg-American line's service between American ports and the West Indies and Panama has been suspended. The service was affected by the order, which was issued today. The steamer Albatross, which sailed from here yesterday, has been recalled by wireless.

BANK OF ENGLAND TODAY RAISED ITS DISCOUNT RATE TO 10 PER CENT.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—The Bank of England today raised its discount rate to 10 per cent.

The scene witnessed at the Bank of England yesterday during the rush to obtain gold in exchange for banknotes were repeated this morning, but on a still larger scale. A few people who had been too late to get currency yesterday afternoon spent the night in the vicinity of the bank and reached the quadrangle at daybreak so as to be first in line today. The majority of people, however, came to the city in their usual leisurely manner and went to the bank at the customary opening hour.

The crowd increased as the morning passed and an hour after the opening some 500 persons were lined up while the streets nearby were filled with curious onlookers.

Strong Force of Police on Duty

The bank porters had been sworn in as special policemen so that they could more easily handle the crowds

FISHERMEN BLOCKADED

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 1.—The harbor along the Labrador coast are blockaded by ice and the condition of the fishermen is most serious, according to Captain Johnstone of the United States revenue cutter Seneca which arrived here yesterday.

When several miles southeast of Indian harbor, Labrador, July 13, the Seneca was surrounded by a heavy field of ice and 13 bergs were sighted. Captain Johnstone reported. He also declared that there were 2000 icebergs between Indian harbor and Flemish.

The Seneca, owing to the presence of so many bergs and to the conditions along the coast, which were said to be the worst for years, was compelled to abandon an observation cruise toward Greenland.

MINES CLOSED BY WAR

BUTTE, Mont., Aug. 1.—As a result of the unsettled conditions in the metal markets, domestic and foreign, due to European war clouds, the Great Falls Smelter of the Anaconda Mining company suspended yesterday and seven mines were ordered shut down here today. More than three thousand men were affected and it was intimated by mining officials that, if the chaotic condition of the world was not for a moment, a general suspension of the Butte mines and the Washou smelter might result.

EVANS BREAKS COURSE RECORD

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Aug. 1.—Giving what many spectators thought was one of the greatest exhibitions of golf ever witnessed on an American course, Charles Evans, finished the forenoon half of his match today with James D. Staudish, Jr., of Detroit for the western amateur championship nine up. Evans' medal score, 67, broke the course record, which he made earlier in the week, by two strokes.

$200,000,000 FOR LOANS

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—A resolution was passed by both houses of congress in Holland allowing the Netherlands bank to reduce its gold reserve against banknotes from 40 to 20 per cent, according to a private cablegram received here today. This means that the bank can issue an additional $200,000,000 which will be available for loans against bills and stock as collateral, a margin of 30 per cent, being required.

The change in the law also means relief to the trading community of Holland and the stock exchange. A syndicate of banks and bankers has, according to the cablegram, guaranteed the Netherlands bank against part of the eventual losses to be suffered through the issuance of banknotes against stock exchange collateral.

BODY OF WOMAN FOUND

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The body of a well-dressed young woman was found by children today beneath a heap of clothing and a mattress in an unoccupied flat on East 16th street. A towel by which the woman had apparently been strangled was still wrapped tightly about her neck.

The police began a search for two men who rented the flat two weeks ago and were heard moving about the premises by neighbors late Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Hulme and son, of Durant street will visit relatives in northern New York during the month of August.

MARCH ON MEXICO CITY

GUADALAJARA, Mexico, Aug. 1.—General Obregon today telegraphed Provisional President Carralajal:

TYNGSBORO'S TAX RATE

WILL BE $14 A THOUSAND—IT WILL BE ANNOUNCED NEXT WEEK—STATE TAX HIGHER

The tax rate for the town of Tyngsboro has not yet been announced, but in all probabilities it will be given out next week and the assessors believe it will not exceed that of last year.

The tax has been set at $15 per thousand, and one of the assessors in conversation with a Sun reporter this afternoon stated he believed there would be no change. He said the state and county taxes are much higher this year but the increase in the property valuation of the town will bring the rate to its normal condition. The work of assessing the property is completed and some evening next week the assessors will meet to fix the rate which as above stated will be about $14 per thousand.

QUIET IN POLICE CIRCLES

This afternoon proved a very quiet week-end in police circles in spite of the fact that the Lowell cops were working yesterday in the game with the Newton flogging which was supposed to show that our cops are not in the least vindictive.

The entire brotherhood of crooks was given a hearty vote of thanks this afternoon by the station officers for it was a pretty big day for them and even the cops feel less ambition during this kind of weather.

Just one lone call broke the happy monotony of the warm afternoon and sent a shiver down the spine of the cops. It was a call from a man who had been arrested by far the most uneventful Saturday afternoon that the local cops have been blessed with in many moons.

WALL STREET CROWDED

Financial District Marked Time While Word Was Awaited on Decision of Powers

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—With the stock and commodity markets still closed, the financial district marked time today while word was awaited of the decision of the European powers for peace or war. To all outward appearances Wall street was almost as busily engaged as under normal conditions.

The streets were crowded and everywhere there was an air of excitement. At the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., representatives of some of the largest financial institutions in New York and Philadelphia met behind closed doors. No information was obtainable as to what took place, beyond the fact that the present troubled situation was discussed with a view to taking whatever precautionary steps might suggest themselves. It is understood that no definite time for the opening of exchanges was agreed upon.

The newly formed Association of Partners of Stock Exchange Firms met and issued a statement urging all exchange members not to engage in outside dealings in securities.

It was everywhere assumed that trading would not be resumed for some time. It was felt that it would be unwise to reopen the market until the London board at least should take up business again. Otherwise New York would again be placed in the position of hearing the financial burdens of the world perhaps to its own severe cost.

Canada's requisition upon the gold supply here during the present movement has been made only within the last three days. Bankers said that Canada, in drawing down her balance here, was merely artfully by the same influences which prompted London and Paris to make such heavy calls.

The extent to which the gold export movement would continue, and the most important questions of the financial district at this juncture. Gold shipments to Europe are now so expensive and hazardous that it was the general opinion that the movement would be restricted, henceforth. Not only are insurance rates so high as to be prohibitive under any but the present circumstances, but there are few vessels in which the gold may be shipped, owing to the scarcity of American bottoms. In these vessels alone it is regarded safe to export gold, since ships of European nations would be subject to capture in the event of a general war.

If the demand for gold continues, despite these obstacles, it is possible that a moral barrier may be raised in the form of an unwritten agreement among banking houses not to make further shipments. There was talk of such action in Wall street today, although its likelihood was considered remote.

There was a meeting of the leading foreign exchange interests to consider methods of safeguarding the situation and to reduce it to some basis. A committee was appointed to outline a plan and wire a report Monday.

One of the suggestions made at the meeting of the foreign exchange brokers was the shipment of $100,000,000 gold to London in the form of a loan or in payment of bond purchases. This transaction, it was said, would be of great benefit to the London market and react to the advantage of our own.

It is also suggested that daily meetings of a committee of exchange be held to fix a reasonable range of rates and supervise the exchange of foreign bills and transfers.

Another motion was for the appointment of agents at foreign centers to attend to the collection of bills in the event of a moratorium being established abroad. A plan providing for the appointment of trustees in New York, with whom gold could be deposited in trust for the foreign center, and in case shipment of specie should become too perilous and expensive also was submitted to the committee.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Flynn and daughter, Alice of School street left today for a two weeks' vacation at York beach.

MANY AMERICANS ABROAD

Tourists Stranded by Cancellations of Sailings—Cardinal O'Connell on Ocean

BOSTON, Aug. 1.—There are 60,000 Americans at least who are booked as first and second-cabin passengers to come back from Europe to this country in the next three months," said Charles Stewart, manager of the Cunard Steamship company in this city, yesterday afternoon.

"There is no telling, of course, how many third-cabin or steerage there are to come back, because the return passengers of the third cabin are mixed with the immigrants, as are most of the second cabin for that matter. I am basing my estimates on the fact that the total number of saloon passengers who sailed on all of the steamship lines from this country to European ports from Jan. 1 of the present year to July 17 was 70,751.

"Of this number 45,000 have returned, but besides the 24,000 who are left it is safe to say there are at least 6000 other Americans in Europe who might be put in the saloon class, who will want to return in the next three months. That would make 30,000 saloon passengers. And to this it would be safe to add at least 30,000 second-cabin passengers, which would make 60,000 total.

"It is more difficult to figure out the second cabin, for between Jan. 1 and July 17 of this year 39,000 second cabin passengers went to Europe, while in the same time 136,000 second cabin passengers came from Europe to this country. But I figure that most of these were immigrants and that at least 30,000 of those who went over second cabin are still in Europe and will want to come back.

The same is true of the third cabin or steerage passengers. Of this class 287,000 sailed from this country between Jan. 1 and July 17, but in the same period 494,000 came from Europe third cabin. These of course were mostly immigrants. It is probable that there are 100,000 in all three classes who want to return to this country, but there are surely 30,000 saloon and as many second cabin.

Of the entire 50,000 saloon and second cabin American passengers booked to come back to America the last three months it is estimated that at least one-half are booked for the Hamburg-American, the North German Lloyd and the French line that sails from Havre. Most of the others would come on the English lines—the Cunard, White Star and Anchor.

Cardinal O'Connell managed to get out of Europe before the trouble broke. He is on board the Cincinnati of the Hamburg-American line, which left Hamburg Wednesday and sailed from Southampton Thursday. She is due to reach Boston Aug. 8.

Every steamship office in Boston is being besieged with people anxious about friends and relatives who are in Europe, and the conditions are said to be much worse in New York.

So this European war, even as it stands, has created a condition in trans-Atlantic transportation such as never known before. For already three great lines are tied up in the Hamburg-American, North German Lloyd and Austro-American. The latter sails from the Adriatic and Mediterranean ports and last year brought more than 10,000 passengers of all classes to America.

It is estimated that there are at least 1000 teachers from Greater Boston in Europe at the present time and most of them on the continent. Several hundred art students have also come from Boston to Europe this summer in groups with teachers.

The chief trouble is that practically all of the lines are booked to the limit for the next four weeks, and the Hamburg-American ships are practically booked to the limit for two months. How the people are going to get back is a question which none of the steamship agents could answer yesterday.

German Line Cancellations

"I just received word that there would be no further sailings either eastward or westward on our lines," said Charles Kuhlwein, Boston manager of the North German Lloyd (this is about 4 p. m.). "One of our vessels is on the ocean now, the Konigs, and she is due to arrive in Boston on Aug. 11. She left Bremen Wednesday. She is a freighter, but she has 35 passengers for Boston and 40 for New Orleans."

There are two other boats on the ocean that are due to arrive in New York, the Kaiser Wilhelm II on August 4, and the Kaiser Wilhelm II on August 11.

America Tied Up

Some idea of what this means may be gleaned from the fact that the big steamship America of the Hamburg-American line, which was to have sailed from this port today, is tied up at the dock in South Boston with about 15,000,000 worth of freight in her holds, including 120,000 bushels of wheat and 12,000 bags of asbestos. On her way to have sailed 100,000 passengers; 30 second cabin; 73 third class; and 32 steerage.

Several saloon passengers had already canceled their reservations and others were transferred to Cunard vessels.

Early yesterday the Hamburg-American agents sent out the following notice: "In view of the uncertainty of the present European situation, we are compelled to postpone the sailings of the steamship Vaterland from New York; Amerika from Boston, Aug. 23; and Imperator from Hamburg, July 23. The notice will be given of the eventual sailings."

As a precautionary measure all visitors were ordered off the America at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon and extra guards put on the ship and on the dock. The fear of course being that some fanatical individual might attempt to injure the ship.

suspension altogether of Transatlantic service by three lines were announced in rapid succession here today.

The North German Lloyd line which announced yesterday that no more of its vessels would sail from either side of the Atlantic completed its tie-up by ordering back to port today three vessels, the Friedrich Der Grosse, the Grosser Kurfuerst and the Neckar, which sailed on July 29 from Baltimore, New York and Galveston, respectively.

FRENCH FOREIGN OFFICE SEES NO HOPE OF PEACEFUL OUTCOME OF CRISIS

PARIS, Aug. 1.—At the French foreign office today officials declared they considered it would now be folly to entertain any hope of a peaceful outcome of the international crisis. The last glimmer of light, they said, had been extinguished with the failure of the English effort at Berlin yesterday. The conditions under which the diplomatic "conversations" continued today made it impossible to expect a satisfactory issue and it was reluctantly admitted that it seemed to be only a question of hours.

CHICAGO WHEAT MARKET OPENED IN A NORMAL WAY TODAY

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—For the first time since the declaration of war by Austria, the Chicago wheat market opened in a normal way. Early transactions showed a change of not to exceed one cent, compared with the closed night. September wheat was down 3/4 of a cent and December one cent. September, which closed at $3 1/2 last night sold at 83 cents at the outset today and December wheat at 81 1/2 cents at 8 1/2 cents last night was bought at 80 1/2 cents at the opening today.

KING GEORGE APPEALS TO CZAR IN EFFORT TO AVERT HOSTILITIES

LONDON, Aug. 1.—King George, in a final effort to prevent the outbreak of a general European war in which millions of men would meet in armed conflict, today at the eleventh hour sent a despatch to Emperor Nicholas of Russia and his message was understood to contain an ultimate appeal for the preservation of peace. His majesty's action was taken after 2 o'clock this morning when the war clouds were at their blackest.

At the same time from Rome came the news published in the Messagero that Italy had decided to remain neutral unless attacked. While this information was not confirmed, it was understood in official circles to have caused "no surprise."

At the Italian embassy in London the belief was expressed that Italy should remain neutral with the possibility left open of her turning against her allies, Germany and Austria-Hungary, the latter nation would be reluctant to embark on a general European war.

On the other hand, the fact stood out that Germany had taken a very firm attitude and had asked Russia to suspend the mobilization of her forces, within a time limit of 12 hours, expiring at noon today. She also had asked France to declare within 12 hours the attitude she would assume in case of a war by Germany and Austria against Russia. It was pointed out in authoritative circles that France's attitude could only be that under the terms of her treaty with Russia, she would be compelled to intervene.

German affairs all over the world showed much activity today. The German forces in China were being concentrated at Tsing Tau, the German consul at Tientsin had been ordered to leave, and German merchant ships were ordered to seek neutral ports.

In regard to the far east, the Japanese ambassador in London said today that as long as the warships belonging to the nations composing the Triple Alliance remained in Tsing Tau, Japan would take no action against them but should they attack British interests or should Tsing Tau be attacked a situation would arise which would be dealt with by Japanese in spirit of the honor of the nation.

At the German embassy reference was made to the German mention of French neutrality in her note to the French government and it was said that this seemed to imply that France herself would not be attacked by Germany.

Telegraphic communication between London and Paris was interrupted today, the respective governments having taken over the service in order to prevent the leakage of military news. Communication between Paris and Brussels was similarly interrupted.

The Bank of England, which was again called on to supply an unprecedented amount of gold, raised its rate today to 10 per cent, which is higher than it had been since the Indian mutiny in 1875, the next highest point being 9 per cent in 1872. Besides the crowds in front of the bank entrances seeking to exchange notes for gold, there was leaving the bank carrying guns to London and provincial banks and business firms that feared that the bank act would be suspended soon and that they would be unable to secure many more coins. Otherwise, the British capital showed no signs of excitement.

The Bank of England printers, who work on the premises, are engaged night and day in turning out new notes, as the bank has arranged to issue to the maximum extent of its machinery and its plant, which is a view to conserving its gold reserves.

Many Americans still insist on obtaining passports from the United States embassy, mainly for Germany and France, in spite of warnings that their chance of obtaining transportation is infinitesimal. They declare their reasons to be, in most cases, to get members of their families out of these countries, but some of them say they have important business to transact.

SMELTANEOUS ULTIMATUMS TO RUSSIA AND FRANCE BY GERMANY

ROME, Aug. 1.—The Messagero today says that the German ambassador has informed the Italian government that Germany has sent simultaneous ultimatums to Russia and France.

The German government in its ultimatum to Russia asked her to suspend her mobilization of troops and to suspend the German government at Berlin requires France to inform it within 18 hours whether in case of war between Germany and Russia, France would remain neutral.

The German ambassador to Italy today also asked to be informed of Italy's attitude in the event of war between Germany and Austria-Hungary.

on the one side and Russia and France on the other.

The Marquis Di San Giuliano, the Italian foreign minister, said he would reserve his reply until he had consulted Premier Salandra.

According to the Messagero, during the interview which followed between the Marquis Di San Giuliano and Premier Salandra the two Italian statesmen were in complete agreement as to the line of conduct to be pursued by Italy in the present crisis.

The Messagero declares that as it is the question of a defensive war on the part of Germany and Austria-Hungary, the other two members of the Triple Alliance, Italy has decided to confine herself to pointing out to her allies that her treaty obligations with them do not obligate her to take up arms in the present crisis and that she will remain neutral.

$30,000,000 IN GOLD

SHIPPED BY PARCEL POST FROM MINT TO SUB-TREASURY IN NEW YORK

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 1.—Thirty million dollars in double eagle gold coins was shipped today by parcel post from the Philadelphia mint to the sub-treasury in New York, making a total of $30,000,000 forwarded since Thursday. It is said $20,000,000 will be sent on Monday.

The weight of the gold shipped today was six hundred pounds less than 57 tons. It was sent in bags, and each bag containing $5000, and six of these bags were put in a large mail bag.

Postal wagons conveyed the precious metal from the mint to special cars under a heavily armed guard of 20 postal inspectors and other government officers. All the guards accompanied the gold to its destination.

80 TEXTILE FIRMS VOTE CURTAILMENT IN CONFERENCE AT FALL RIVER

FALL RIVER, Aug. 1.—Mill trustees representing 80 textile factories here, decided at a conference yesterday on a curtailment plan. The mills will remain closed next week. Twenty thousand operatives will be affected.

Officials of the Fall River Cotton Manufacturers association said last night that the curtailment was due partly to overproduction of goods and partly to the demoralized condition of the market, brought about by the closing of the cotton exchange on account of the European crisis.

WILLIAM E. DWYER ILL

Mr. William E. Dwyer, for many years a resident of this city, was stricken with a shock in his shop at 359 Central street about 7.30 o'clock this morning and as a result is now confined to his home at 154 Charles street in a serious condition, although family physicians hope for his recovery. Mr. Dwyer was apparently in good health when he left his home early this morning but had only been in his barber shop a short time when he was overcome. An automobile was summoned and he was removed to his home and a doctor summoned.

mentioned in the resolution. They want it made twenty instead of thirty years and the matter will be taken up at the meeting of the municipal council on Tuesday. This will mean the drawing up of a new resolution, which under the law will have to remain for ten days in the city clerk's office before it becomes operative and the work cannot be started, of course, until the money is available.

Old Marriage Licenses

If you have any old marriage licenses lying around, that you haven't used, it is your duty to send them to the city clerk. The one you are using may be allowed to remain in the trunk on the wall or wherever it may be, but the others must be sent in.

This law was passed because of the many complaints of marriage licenses taken out and used by parties not married, and incidentally to create new jobs. Since the new law went into effect all of the licenses issued at two cents of the city clerk's office before the new law, and in order that it may not be passed unnoticed it is marked with red ink.

After taking this precaution the city clerk can be excused for believing that he has done his full duty and if there are couples living together with only the license to prove it, he believes it is up to the police and not the city clerk.

Must Be Returned

This law says: "If such a certificate (meaning a marriage license) is not used, it shall be returned to the office issuing the same within six months after it is issued, and further on, 'whoever performs a ceremony of marriage after a certificate more than six months after it is issued, and whoever having taken out such a certificate and not having used it falls to return it within six months after it is issued to the office issuing the same, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10.'"

Out of the 600 and some odd licenses issued in this city at the city clerk's office, owing to the publicity given to the bill in the legislature but two or three are still out. From now on very few licenses, it is believed, will be held out of use illegally.

Before the assistance of the police is called in a letter is sent to the parties holding licenses of over six months telling them that the license is of no further value and asking for a report. This letter failing, the police take the case.

DRACUT TAX RATE LOWER

Assessors Announce That Rate Will be $25.90 per Thousand, a Reduction of $1.70

The tax rate for the town of Dracut was announced this afternoon at 3 o'clock after the assessors held a meeting at the town hall as $25.90 per thousand, which means a reduction of $1.70 per thousand over the 1913 rate, which was $27.60.

The assessed valuation of the property has increased about $200 during the past year, despite the fact that a reduction of $25,000 had to be given the American Woolen Co., which conducts a plant in Collinsville, this reduction going into effect on account of machinery in that amount having been removed to other quarters.

The amount raised at the last town meeting was $5000 less than the preceding year and it was believed by many that the tax rate this year would not exceed $22 per thousand, but one of the assessors in conversation with a Sun reporter this afternoon stated that the state and county taxes jumped to a thousand dollars this year and that is mainly responsible for the difference.

Three years ago the tax rate in Dracut was about $20 per thousand and the following year it jumped to $28.30. Last year it dropped 70 cents and this year another drop of $1.70 was made and it is expected that it will keep dropping until a normal rate is again reached.

Inter-State Commerce Board to Publish Decision in R. R. Case

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—It was announced today at the interstate commerce commission that every effort would be made to publish the decision in the eastern advance freight case at or after 3 p. m. today.

The announcement signed by the secretary of the commission, was posted at the general offices and it was said it would stand for the day. Anticipating attempts to forecast the decision officials said any reports purporting to give the commission's conclusions in the note case would be wholly unauthorized and speculative.

The decision affecting 52 railroad systems east of the Mississippi and north of the Potomac and Ohio rivers in what is designated official classification territory, has been under consideration several months and an announcement has been expected from day to day for the last six weeks.

At one time the railroad board has been expected to announce a tentative decision for the announcement but the committee found itself in difficulties in agreeing upon all points and retraced its steps reconstructing the decision almost entirely and in fact, writing it a new one in many places.

The railroads have asked the increase solely on the ground that their revenues have become insufficient to meet the increasing cost of wages and other expenses. Opposition to the increase has been conducted on the ground that the railroads have sufficient revenue without increasing charges to the public.

MOVING LARGE BUILDING

Work on removing the building located at the corner of Ford and Alken streets, recently purchased by Charles Paille, to Mt. Hope street, was started this morning and it is expected that within a week the structure will occupy the place reserved for it, where a foundation is awaiting for it, where the building is a two and a half story affair with a large bay window on the front, but it is understood that the bay window will be torn down so as not to disturb any trees en route. The building will be taken up the Ford street hill and across the Moody street bridge into Colonial avenue. Then it will be shifted into Mt. Hope street. At the corner of the latter and River streets there are two fine trees forming an arch over the road and it is in order to protect those trees that the bay window will be taken down. As soon as the old building is removed Mr. James T. O'Flaherty will start the construction of a large dwelling house on the same spot.

LEWISTON WON BUILDING UP THE TEAM

that Lawrence club battle, simply due to the fact that they have so much confidence in their own powers regardless of the score or how far they may be in the rear.

The Lawrence club stands only fourth in team batting, Worcester, Portland and Lynn all leading her while Pieper's men rank fifth as a fielding club. It isn't their batting or their fielding that makes them so dangerous. It is the fact that there is instant co-operation between the men on the defense and offense and every man is working for the game regardless of his individual average. And there is the secret of the Lawrence's club's success so far this season. It is by being the best drilled club along the circuit.

Portland Dangerous

The Portland team is the club which now looks to be the hardest contender against Lawrence, although, of course, Jesso Burckett cannot be eradicated from the figuring at any time.

Duffy has a well binned team in hand and is shaping them onward and upward. Every game that Portland plays Duffy's men look better. They are getting the ball savagely and timely and display a very good brand of team play.

Where Duffy and Burckett have both got it on Pieper is in the pitching department. The old saying: "Show me the pitchers and I'll show you the winners" is very true, thus far, however, although it may eventually prove otherwise.

If Louis Pieper wins the pennant this season it will be a monument to his managerial prowess.

AND ATHLETICS

Jack Johnson will forfeit an additional bond of $15,000 if he does not appear in the Chicago courts next Friday. The big black has already lost $30,000 by his non-appearance. So it looks as though he wouldn't return for the amount at stake Friday. However, $15,000 is a big pot of money even for the negro champion.

McGraw and Comiskey have finally decided not to take the proposed trip to South America next winter with their respective ball clubs. It was planned to put on the same sort of schedule as made the world tour possible but McGraw cannot see where the returns will equal the expenses. Comiskey is still thinking seriously of the proposition, it is said.

The Braves are only one game behind the 60-50 mark and the Boston fans are looking for them to break into that class and then go along even better than at present if that is possible. I think the Braves should keep up their clip of the last two weeks, in which time they have won 11 and lost 2, they would win the National League pennant. Although this is hardly considered probability they will undoubtedly creep up very close to the top.

JAURES ASSASSINATED

Noted Socialist Leader Shot to Death in Paris Restaurant—Murderer Arrested

PARIS, Aug. 1.—Jean Leon Jaures, the noted socialist leader, was assassinated last night while dining in a small restaurant near the Bourse. The assassin was arrested, but refused to disclose his identity. Later he was identified as Raoul Villain, aged 23, and said to be the son of a clerk of the civil court at Rheims.

The Minister of the Interior, Louis Malvy, on learning of the crime, left the meeting of the council and ordered precautions to be taken to prevent demonstrations.

M. Jaures was seated at a dinner table, near an open window facing the rue Montmartre, chatting with several socialist deputies and the editors of L'Humanite. As though by prearrangement, the curtain covering the window was lightly brushed aside and a hand holding a revolver was thrust through.

day from Brussels, where he attended the international socialist conference to protest against war, and since his arrival had delivered an address with his usual eloquence on the subject. His campaign against hostilities is thought possibly to have had some connection with his murder.

An eye witness of the shooting says the assassin declared after he had fired: "I did it because Jaures fought the three first years (the Three Years' military law)." He fought France.

The government last night took official notice of the crime by ordering a proclamation, signed by Premier Viviani, posted on the walls of Paris. It denounced the murder of M. Jaures and counsels the people not to give way to agitation and throw the city into disorder.

Noted Orator

Jean Leon Jaures, socialist leader and generally regarded as the greatest orator France has produced in modern times, save perhaps Gambetta and Mirabeau, was born Sept. 3, 1859, at Castres, Tarn, France.

one of his pet theories that to bring about universal peace France and Germany must above all other countries, cooperate.

M. Jaures is survived by his wife, a daughter, who is married, and a son, still in the university. Soon after the boy was born a great hue and cry was raised by some of the followers of Jaures because he had the babe baptized and named after from the river Jordan. Jaures silenced his critics with the reply that "something must be allowed to his wife's susceptibilities."

In 1892, when the miners of Carmaux went out on strike on account of the discharge of a socialist workman, M. Jaures became conspicuous in their defense and the following year he was re-elected to the chamber of deputies as a socialist.

As editor of a paper, the Petite Republique, he was one of the most fiery defenders of Capt. Dreyfus when the latter succeeded in vindicating his reputation. In 1902 he returned to the chamber of deputies, became vice president of the chamber, and in 1904 he founded the paper called L'Humanite.

During the last 10 or 12 years his radical speeches in connection with strikes, in denunciation of militarism and in advocacy of world peace and arbitration have made him known throughout the civilized world. In 1904 he fought a bloodless duel with Paul Deroulade, a brother journalist, who had accused Jaures of being a detractor of Joan of Arc.

He secured a general reduction of working hours for working men and women, pensions for workers over 65, and by the establishment of government employment offices practically abolished private employment agencies.

He was credited more than any other man with driving the religious orders from France a few years ago.

Many of the socialists in France believed revolution to be the only means of bringing about the regime they desired, but Jaures persistently held that it can better be done piecemeal, by having the government acquire from time to time some new natural resource or great industry of the nation, and he worked along that line continually.

When Jaures visited Berlin nine years ago the German government forbade him to speak in public for fear of the influence he might have on the socialists there.

The speech, published later in Jaures' newspaper L'Humanite, was a powerful

As a result of a request from the Salem relief committee, the officers of the Humane society are investigating the condition of the few Salem refugees who sought out Lowell as a place to reside after being driven from their homes by the recent fire. The agent of the society has found one or two families he believes to be in need and therefore has recommended that the Salem relief committee help them. Most of the cases have to do with families that lost all of their furniture and other belongings in the fire and have not enough money to start housekeeping anew. In this instance, the local officers recommend that the stricken families be given orders for furniture at local stores.

BILLARD RESIGNS

Meriden Man Quits New Haven and New England Navigation Co.

NEW HAVEN, Aug. 1.—The resignation of John L. Billard of Meriden from the directorates of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad company and the New England Navigation company was announced here yesterday. Homer S. Cummings of Stamford, his counsel, made the announcement after a conference with Mr. Billard.

Mr. Cummings' statement says that Mr. Billard desired to resign several months ago in order to be relieved from business cares, but refrained because "it did not seem desirable to take any step which might change the status of affairs while the interstate commerce commission was investigating the financial transactions of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad company."

The statement continues: "In view of the fact, however, that that investigation has been completed and a formal report filed, Mr. Billard now feels free to submit his resignation. It is only fair to say that there is an additional reason for filing his resignation."

"The report of the interstate commerce commission deals in part with the relations between the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad company and the Billard company. A committee of the directors of the railroad has been appointed to investigate and report further upon the Billard company affairs, so far as the railroad company may be interested in them. Mr. Billard feels that his continued presence on the board of directors might possibly be embarrassing to his associates in conducting that investigation and it is his wish that such investigation should be as full and complete and unlimited in scope as the most exacting could require."

"Under these circumstances it will be manifest that the action taken by Mr. Billard was dictated by the strictest sense of propriety."

LOWELL'S PRIME NEED IS ROOM TO EXPAND

Map showing boundary line of Lowell and the adjoining towns with circles of one, two, three and four mile radii from Merrimack square. The Lowell boundary line is shaded and the line between the towns is dotted. This shows that a circle of three miles radii from Merrimack square would include a considerable portion of Dracut, Tewksbury and Chelmsford.

Annexation of Part of Surrounding Towns Would Benefit City and Towns Alike—Advantages of Water Supply, Fire and Police Protection Together With the Full Use of Our Schools—Work for Board of Trade

The question of annexation is admitted to be one of the utmost importance to the future welfare of our city. In a recent interview with a Sun representative Secretary Murphy of the board of trade favored the annexation of all the territory within three miles of Merrimack square. This would take in the land as far down the river as Belle Grove and outward as far as Collinsville, North Chelmsford and Wamelet. Some are in favor of annexing North Billerica and the Boston & Maine car shops, but that territory is over four miles from Merrimack square.

If the area of our city were increased by a portion of the town of Dracut, including Belle Grove and the Navy Yard district, together with the intervening territory, there would then be considerable of an outlet for new industrial and residential districts.

But while this addition would be very desirable it would not be quite so much so as North Chelmsford, the mills of which are on a line of railroad about three miles from Merrimack square and only a short distance beyond the city line. The city of Lowell has its origin in North Chelmsford and it would probably be best for both city and town to form a union in which the interests of both would be consolidated.

In consulting the heads of departments in Lowell it has been found that the water service could be easily extended to the towns; that fire protection could be provided at a moderate expense, that police protection would be made available without difficulty, while the schools of Lowell would be free to the people residing in the annexed districts.

The area of our city is very small in proportion to its population and hence more territory is needed to permit of easy growth. It may not be generally known that each of the neighboring towns has a much larger area than Lowell.

Here is a statement of the comparative areas in square miles:

Lowell	14.12	Tewksbury	22.
Billerica	26.5	Dracut	20.25
Chelmsford	25.	Tyngsboro	18.5

If cities are considered the area of Lowell is less than that of many other cities having a smaller population. In this respect the following table showing the comparative areas of Massachusetts:

If we consider the comparative areas of Massachusetts cities of over 30,000, it will be found that Lowell is far down in the list, taking thirteenth place as appears from the following table:

	Population	Total Area (Acres)	Land	Water
Taunton	25,631	31,261.0	25,320.0	2,941.0

A Serious Handicap

This drawback is certainly a handicap for the industrial growth of our city and one that should be overcome as soon as possible by annexation. While some of the towns might object to joining Lowell on account of our tax rate, which at the present time happens to be unusually high, the town of Dracut could not use this argument as its tax rate at the present time is $27.60 per thousand. But the reason for this is but temporary. That should not constitute any bar to annexation.

Matter for Board of Trade

It would be well for the board of trade to take this matter up and formulate a plan for the annexation of a part of the town of Dracut to include Varum's landing and the Navy Yard and also North Chelmsford. The aim in advocating annexation is not entirely selfish as the land annexed would soon be so increased in value that the owners would derive a substantial profit from the increment.

When prospecting industries come to Lowell they find the area from which to select sites so small that it is difficult to secure desirable locations. This would be obviated by adding more territory for the purpose of developing it so as eventually to bring a revenue to the city while at the same time benefiting the owners.

Naturally one of the first questions asked by the residents of the towns would be what would Lowell do to improve our roads. It is very plain that good roads in every part of the city is a prime necessity that must be provided at any cost. The automobile is everywhere today and as a result the roads are an embarrassment. The city that does not keep its streets and public thoroughfares in respectable condition most retrograde for visitors will avoid it. It is a poor place in which to live or do business unless the roads are kept up. That is one reason that offers an assurance to the towns that if any territory be annexed the roads thereof will be kept in good condition.

RESOLUTE WINS

Beats the Vanitie More Than 12 Minutes at Port Jefferson, N. J.

PORT JEFFERSON, N. Y., Aug. 1.—The Resolute enhanced her light weather reputation yesterday by leading the Vanitie in another of the America's cup defense trials over the greater part of 35-mile zig-zag course in Long Island sound, winning by 12 minutes 4 seconds elapsed time, and 14 minutes 16 seconds corrected time.

The Vanitie made a poor start, but a shift of wind in the first hour lifted her to almost even terms with the Resolute yacht. Then the Resolute gradually drew away and gained continually.

A five-knot easterly breeze at the start faded to a mere breath half way on the course and then, shifting to southwest, had just enough force to waft the yachts to a sunset finish.

It was the initial run of the cruise of the New York Yacht club. Some of the cruising yachts did not finish the 25-mile course until after dark.

The Vanitie gained the weather berth over the Resolute four minutes before the start, but was robbed of her advantage by two little Sound schooners, which were in the way.

Swinging away from the Resolute, the Vanitie lost headway and before she could fill away the former had the better berth and crossed the line well in the lead. In fact, the Vanitie was forced to swing away again and was handicapped 23 seconds in starting.

The first five miles was a beat to windward, with a favorable tide but with little wind movement.

The Resolute drew away gradually and was a quarter of a mile down to windward when the breeze hauled to the south of east and the Vanitie found herself on virtually even terms with her rival, both yachts being able to lay the course to the first turn of Bridgeport Canal, 20½ miles down the Sound, from the start.

For the next 15 miles the yachts sailed along slowly hard on the starboard tack, the Resolute outgunning the Vanitie until at the turn she had a lead of almost eight minutes.

The yachts then sailed round when the breeze fell flat and then came from the westward. It was so light that both yachts started beating the balloon jib topsails. The Resolute increased her lead at the second mark to more than half a hour.

As the yachts headed for the finish underneath the bluffs of Smithtown the breeze again fell to a whisper and it was with the greatest difficulty that any of the yachts reached the committee boat.

Sunset found the Resolute still two miles from the finish and beating to leeward in the lightest of airs, while the Vanitie was two miles astern and making even slower progress. It was 12:02 when the Resolute finally crossed the finish line. The Vanitie crossed at 6:30.41.

The Resolute's elapsed time was 2:01.37 and her corrected time 5:53.25. The Vanitie's elapsed time was 3:13.41, and her corrected time the same.
